SPEAKS STERNLY ALSO TO LEAGUE ABOUT ALBANIA

Adriatic Sea to Be Italy's, Duce Says.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.)
ROME, Nov. 29.—Proclaiming defiance in scarcely veiled language to France, Jugo-Slavia, and the league of nations, Premier Benito Mussolini tonight, through the Fascist party organ, Foglio d'Ordine, announced Italy's intentions of keeping the Adriatic an Italian sea, at whatever costs.
If Duce's pronouncement was a formal reply to the Jugo-Slav comments on the Italo-Albanian treaty, through the official Belgrade agency, "Albina," and probably was the strongest utterance he has made since the Corfu affair four years ago.
After mentioning the assertion of the Serbians and French that no one threatens Albania, Premier Mussolini declared "we are fully convinced that dating from November, 1927—the time of the signing of the Italo-Albanian pact—one will make an attempt against Albanian independence."

Keeps Sea Open for Italy.
"This sudden remissive attitude of Belgrade reminds us of the story of the fox and the grapes. Above all mysticism and sophistry, above all the impotent anti-Fascism which transpires from the demagogic and liberal papers, the clear significance of the Italo-Albanian treaty cannot be distorted, and is precisely this: Absolute independence and the pacific development of Albania, and a guarantee for Italy that the entrance of the Adriatic, whose door is the Otranto canal, is free. Whoever does not recognize this double fundamental principle necessarily must meet the will and faith of Fascist Italy."

"Why Does France Arm Serbs?"
If the Franco-Jugo-Slavian pact is so innocent, Premier Mussolini asks, why is France building in Serbia two military airbases, factories capable of turning out hundreds of military planes annually?
"This is the truth behind the ro-sate phraseology of the Franco-Serbian pact, phraseology so dear to the league of nations, which even half of the liberal regimes discredit," he adds.
If Duce then practically defies the league of nations not to register the Italo-Albanian pact, as has been suggested in Serbian comments. He points out that Geneva's function is to register any freely concluded defensive pact between any free nations without discussion, and has no jurisdiction to pass on their nature.

BRITISH-ITALIAN ROW
BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—A furious row occurred between Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, and the Italian ambassador to London yesterday, when the latter called at the foreign office. He had been summoned by Sir Austen to discuss the Italo-Jugo-Slav-Albanian situation, which Sir Austen fears, contains the seeds of war.
Sir Austen told the Italian plainly that Italy is at fault in not coming to terms of agreement with the Jugo-Slavs by including them in the Albanian pact as he suggested last week.
Thus, instead of two groups of enemies there would be created one group of the Balkan states, united by a common treaty.

Mussolini Turns Down Plan.
Premier Mussolini, however, turned down the suggestion almost derisively, and Sir Austen told the Italian ambassador that if things become worse in the Balkans as a result of this action Great Britain will wash its hands of the whole matter, leaving Italy to take whatever the consequences might be.

FIRE DESTROYS SAUSAGE PLANT; LOSS IS $200,000

Fire which started shortly before 5 o'clock this morning, destroyed the plant of the Republic Food Products company, makers of sausage, at 4053-57
South La Salle street. Edward T.
Clair, president of the company, estimated the loss on the building and contents at $200,000. Expensive machinery constituted a large item of the loss. None of the 165 employees of the plant was in it when the fire started.
The building at 4053 was two stories high and the rest one story. The fire was discovered by a watchman on the second floor of the two story part of the plant. When firemen arrived the flames had spread to all parts of the building, being fed by the greases and oil in the place. In all 42 companies fought the fire. Deputy Fire Commissioner Edward Maloney and Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan took personal charge of the battle with the flames.

Motorist Runs Over Dog and Drives On; Arrested

Failure to stop after his automobile struck and seriously injured a dog caused the arrest yesterday of Gustave Ottobach, 2457 North Oak park avenue.
Policeman Thomas Geary and Clarence Sweeney of the detective bureau, attracted by whines, saw the injured animal kicking in a gutter at Chicago avenue and Halsted street. They started in pursuit of a car that had just passed and caught Ottobach at Laramie street. A gun was in a side pocket of his machine, so he was held for investigation.

MAYOR REPLIES TO N. Y. CRITICS OF HIS REGIME

Flag Above Party in This City, He Declares.

"Why is it that your administration is concerning itself so much with what book matters and fears of British influence when it is so persistently reported, although perhaps inaccurately, that crimes of violence grow in number in Chicago?" the New York World asked Mayor William Hale Thompson in a telegram yesterday.

"If it is your desire to print this telegram," Mayor Thompson replied to the newspaper, "but permission is withdrawn if my statements are garbled, distorted or the sense of the wire misinterpreted."

The mayor's answer to the first question then was given as follows: "Crime in Chicago has been reduced 10 per cent since William Hale Thompson was elected mayor, false rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. The only crime war we have in Chicago is the war against crime. I have with a second question asked by the World, which said it would be glad to receive up to three thousand words from him. His message continued:

"Second question. The question is asked almost as frequently whether these crimes of violence are the result of administrative and political protection for gangsters. The New York Herald-Tribune, a staunch Republican paper, carries an editorial captioned 'At the Front in Chicago'.

"Flag Above Party, He Says. "Your second question indicates that the New York Herald-Tribune is a staunch Republican party organ, which may be true, but I doubt it. However, while I welcome the chance to read a staunch Republican paper, that is incidental because this is not a matter of party politics, for we in Chicago put our flag above our party and serve our people alike. "Your further quotation that 'Chicago's reign of terror has passed beyond the joke stage' has one fundamental truth in it as I see it, and that is that some New York gangsters arrived in Chicago last week. One of them is now dead and the others have run back to New York. Please congratulate the New York papers for me in covering up New York's crime while they magnify Chicago's crime so as to have some criminal news to feed their own people instead of printing their shortcomings at home.

"Back to the History Books. "In answer to your school book inquiry I quote you from Scholastic's history as follows: 'When the representatives of George V. rendered homage a few years ago at the tomb of the great disloyalist and rebel of a former century, George Washington, the minds of many Americans reverted, to the times when another King George was guiding the destinies of the British nation.'

"The fact remains that while Thompson is mayor, school children shall not be taught that George Washington, the father of our country, the man who gave us our freedom and our charter of liberty and constitution, was a rebel and traitor. "Chicago was the most orderly city during the war. The constitution of the United States was upheld in Chicago during the war while being violated elsewhere in the nation, and while Chicago earnestly did its duty to the flag and while calm prevailed

MAY WED AGAIN

Mrs. Rachael Littleton Vanderbilt. (Pacific and Atlantic Photo.)

New York, Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Society expects to receive soon the announcement of the engagement of Mrs. Rachael Littleton Vanderbilt, who has just obtained a divorce in Reno from Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., to Jasper Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Morgan of Wheatley Hills, L. I. It was learned today.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's half brother, Martin W. Littleton, the attorney, said that any information concerning the engagement would have to come "from those reported engaged."

here, no end of violence was being committed in New York city.

"We of Chicago remember these things, but we do not enjoy broadcasting New York's shortcomings as New York papers enjoy broadcasting the false reports about imaginary Chicago shortcomings.

"It might be well for the people of New York and Chicago to realize that they are the two greatest cities in the union, and that friendship rather than hatred or criticism would be helpful to the people of both cities.

"George Washington, in his farewell address, said: 'It shall be for the best interests of the United States for all time to maintain friendly relations with all European nations, but entangling alliances with no nation on earth.'

"Well, as for Bill Thompson, I will follow in the footsteps of the men who made us what we are, and if that isn't good enough for the newspapers, they can call me what they please. I don't preach what I alone think. I stand for the principles proclaimed in the institutions established by the fathers, and what was good enough for them is good enough for me, and if I can't succeed following them, I will bow my head and go down in defeat."

ALDERMEN SEND 4 TRANSIT BILLS TO COMPANIES

Subway Measure Still in Subcommittee.

Four of the five bills drafted by a city council subcommittee as representing the city's views of enabling legislation needed to solve the transit problem were in the hands of the surface lines' officials last night. Negotiations on them will be started within a week or ten days.

The four bills were sent to the companies following their formal approval yesterday afternoon by the local transportation committee. They provide (1) consolidation, (2) a transit district regulatory commission, (3) a terminable permit, and (4) a fixed term permit limited to 40 years.

Subway Bill Still Pending.

Bill number 5, that authorizing subway construction, still remains in the subcommittee, entangled by a dispute over the respective powers to be given the council and the board of local improvements in building and regulating subways.

At the instance of Ald. James E. Bowler (25th) the subcommittee at a meeting prior to that of the full committee yesterday asked its attorney, Assistant Corporation Counsel James Green, to submit for consideration new bills giving the council the right to amend any subway ordinance the board of improvements may submit to it. Under the existing law it can only adopt or reject.

"I don't propose to be a rubber stamp in this council," Ald. Bowler asserted. "We can go along without Mike Faherty on subway construction and I'm opposed to delegating to him or to any one else exclusive rights to do the job."

At the committee session the terminable permit bill led to protracted debate when Aldermen D. S. McKinlay (18th) and W. W. Miller (37th) demanded that issuance of such a permit be made optional with the city, not mandatory, by substituting the word "may" for "shall."

Others Outvoted Them. They stood unsupported, however, and the bill, with the other three, was approved as drafted by the subcommittee.

Yesterday's action of the committee in approving the four bills was the longest step taken thus far in the proceedings necessary to take the proposed legislation to Springfield. Following negotiations with the companies and council action, the entire set of five bills, as revised, will be taken to Gov. Small, who has promised to call the legislature into special session to consider them when an agreement is reached.

M'CALL OUT OF KLAN TRIALS; HITS STATE OFFICIALS

Livorno, Ala., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Attorney General Charles McCall tonight announced his withdrawal from active participation in the trials of the Crenshaw fogging cases.

The announcement was made two hours after the case of Thaxton Miller, charged with kidnapping and fogging Travis Roseman, had gone to the jury.

The attorney general predicted his withdrawal upon a charge of lack of cooperation from the state law enforcement bureau, propaganda that has been spread abroad in the county that he was actuated by political motives in taking up the fogging investigations; a statement that he had completed his work and was no longer needed by the circuit solicitor, who had requested his assistance; a statement that he was needed in other parts of the state, and "for other reasons, which should be perfectly apparent to every law abiding citizen in Crenshaw county and, I might say, the state at large."

The attorney general made a flat charge that the state law enforcement bureau had, in his opinion, exhibited a "friendly desire to assist the defense instead of the prosecution officials."

Dry Methodists Demand Open Issue on Prohibition

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—The major political parties are being driven toward taking a definite stand on prohibition and announcing that stand—pro or against—in their conventions next summer. Methodist dries today joined outstanding wet in a demand that the Democratic and Republican recognize prohibition as the dominant issue in the 1932 presidential campaign.

Methodists Ask Showdown. The keynote of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals annual meeting, sounded today by the Rev. Clarence True Wilson, its secretary, reveals that the Methodists favor as vigorous a drive for prohibition enforcement as will be waged by the wets for modification or national referendum plank in both party platforms.

The Methodist board is so interlocked and united with the Anti-Saloon league and exerts so much influence in the latter that it is difficult to say which is which.

The wets' demand for action was made in New York last night when three hundred notable Republican wets heard the plans of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment to organize a national demand for the inclusion of planks favoring a nationwide prohibition referendum in both platforms.

Dr. Wilson's appeal to dries of all denominations to rally for a showdown in the 1932 campaign was summed up in his assertion, "We believe the temperance people and the loyal people ought to unite and demand that all party platforms shall say exactly how they stand and what they mean to do with reference to prohibition and its enforcement, and that no man ought to be available for the presidency or vice presidency who is a known violator of his country's constitution and violator of his oath of office."

Demand Dry President.

"It is unfitting," continued Dr. Wilson, "that the first dry nation of the world should choose a wet to represent it. The next President will appoint members of the Supreme court, select an entire cabinet, appoint prohibition enforcement officers, address congress and either stand four square with the constitution of his country or let down on the enforcement program, and a whole nation of legislators, executives, and judicial appointees of the President will go up or down with the cue he gives them in these annual messages."

ALD. ADAMOWSKI THREATENS SUIT FOR ROBEY ST.

Unless the city council, at its meeting today, changes the name of Damen avenue back to Robey street, its original designation, a court fight will be started to force it to do so, according to Ald. Max Adamowski (38th), leader of the Robey forces.

"It's time that a stop is put to this promiscuous renaming of streets and the practice had just as well be tested in the court now as any other time," the alderman declared. "The ordinance on Robey street was slipped through the council without going to a committee as required by law and the property owners I represent will not stand for it. We are going to ask for an injunction."

Ald. Adamowski issued the threat of court action yesterday after the council's committee on streets and alleys refused by a vote of 8 to 6 to approve an ordinance countermanding the original one rechristening the thoroughfare Damen avenue.

I. W. W. INTRIGUE DOMINATES MINE STRIKE IN WEST

Reds Under "Old Glory" Fight Capital.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Walsenburg, Colo., Nov. 29.—[Special.]—In a small, bare, and dingy room in the upper floor of a store building on the main street of Walsenburg sit a group of men who would overthrow Wall Street and all the industrial system of America. Just now they are engaged in a spirited contest with John D. Rockefeller Jr. and other operators in the Colorado coal field.

"Fellow workers," says a rough looking man sitting on a platform with a table and gavel in front of him, "we will now proceed to the business of the day."

Outwardly this business may be nothing more than organizing a funeral parade or getting fresh supplies for the soup kitchen in the floor below, where the strike committee will presently repair for boiled beef and cabbage, but secretly these men are suspected of other things, such as the burning of a railroad bridge leading to a mine the night before. At least the state police have no doubt of this. They would march the whole outfit to jail and close the hall were it not for fear of political and other consequences.

New Leaders for Old.

This is a new sort of strike for Colorado. The old rules of the United Mine Workers are not working at all. Put a leader in jail and another springs from the carelessly dressed, slouching groups of men that hang around the I. W. W. headquarters day and night. They do not know where the enemy will strike. They come in the night like a plague of locusts.

A good deal of information of I. W. W. methods and procedure has been gained through seizure of their correspondence during this strike, for the state troopers have not hesitated to break the law in order to do their job thoroughly. They have men in jail without evidence against them, and one of these is A. S. Embree, who came out of Chicago headquarters, 333 Belmont avenue, a year and a half ago in order to go into the coal mines of Colorado to produce this strike.

Spread I. W. W. Propaganda.

The operators were not on guard. The ranks of the miners were penetrated. At little noonday gatherings

GOVERNOR ASKED TO DELAY EVICTIONS IN PENNSYLVANIA STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 29.—[AP.]—A protest to Gov. John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania, against impending evictions of striking miners from houses of the Inland Collieries company at Indianapolis was met today by a statement from the company against the "exceedingly unreasonable" request of the United Mine Workers for additional time in which to erect barracks to house its members and their families.

The protest to Gov. Fisher was made by twenty "mothers of families" of locked out mine workers and a group of New Kensington, Pa., business men. The women wired Mr. Fisher "in the name of charity to the poor and oppressed" to use his influence to have the company stay executions until barracks can be erected.

The company statement said there were only 84 houses involved at Indianapolis and that the company offered to give the union two weeks to vacate one-half of the houses and a further two weeks for the vacation of the remainder. That proposition, the company said, was refused.

The company declared the appeal by the union from the eviction judgment was taken on purely technical grounds, and pointed out that during the four months the appeal was pending no rent was paid, and that no action was taken toward the erection of barracks for the families of striking miners involved.

At bigger night meetings, the gospel of the One Big Union was spread tirelessly, insidiously, week after week. These men are fanatical in their cause, spiritual brothers, at least, to the communists and other organizers and agitators, some of them women. They took jobs in towns near the mines and carried on their propaganda outside working hours. The handful of Red cards soon grew to thousands.

When the coal operators drove out great bodies of white miners in 1914 and in other strikes and crushed the United Mine Workers of America in this field the places of the men were taken largely by Mexicans, Greeks, and Italians. In the ignorant mind of the Mexican peon, at least, the I. W. W. philosophy, the class war, met with quick growth. They are the poorest paid of miners, because the poorest workers. They lived in the poorest hovels. They fell an easy prey to slogans and catchwords. Their revolt is the price the operators are paying for their policy.

Know Little of Mines.

They are led by men who know little of the coal field, although on the strike committee are some few experienced employees of the mines. But men like J. C. Miller, another Chicago product, a service man with the 33d Division, now a national organizer of the I. W. W., seem to be most vociferous and to be the chosen leaders. Miller has never been in a coal mine, but he knows by instinct or prejudice that the mine owners are cheats and browbeaters and are never the friend of the worker class.

"Fellow workers," he says, "you know the owners aren't looking after your interests, don't you? You know the capitalist class won't do a thing for you until you force them. How about this Rockefeller plan—speak up, fellow workers."

Wages Were Out.

"It is bunk—it is no good," says a yellow haired, brawny young worker out of Walsenburg. "They cut our wages in 1921 from $7.15 to $6.39 a day. At a meeting where they took a vote to raise our house rent there were twelve workers present out of 448 in that mine—only one voted for the increase. But they raised the rent. We put a check weigher on the platform, and he is fired. We join a union and we are fired."

"They don't live up to the state law," cries Miller. "Of course not, they have got the state butchers behind them. But we got to live up to the law and be peaceful. This is a peaceful strike, 100 per cent good in the north and 50 per cent in the south. Pretty good for us, ain't it?"

Know Coal Industry.

The fact is that for a short time the I. W. W. tied up the coal fields tighter than the United Mine Workers ever did. They got out 58 per cent of the miners in their first strike, a Saco-Vermont demonstration, last August. They had been going on, the underground strength. Embree, who had spent four years in jail in Idaho for criminal syndicalism, held meetings where the strike was accurately planned. From freight cars, blind baggage, out of day smokers, appeared other leaders, summoned at the critical time by the Butte headquarters. Roger Francison, one of their most intelligent organizers, came out of nowhere into Colorado and helped the big plan.

Within a year, the I. W. W. leaders say, they will have Colorado organized more effectively than any other state. They expect to go into the best fields and the steel mills. They are looking cannily to the political situation in a presidential year to make things easier for them.

Find Colorado Easy.

Colorado has already been easy, due, perhaps to the friendliness of the Democratic administration with labor, and Democratic hopes for the future. There has been no merciless drives here as there was in California and Arizona, even after the hand of the radicals was shown. They are meeting boldly, marching boldly, sneering and mocking at the police, who curse them and their helplessness silently. New Mexico has already taken steps to repel invasion. The automobile pass between the two states is guarded by 70 New Mexico National Guardsmen. The adjutant general and intelligence offices have been keeping close watch on the Colorado situation and promise a "warm reception" if the "Wobblies" try to cross the state line. Already sympathetic strikes have begun in New Mexico and the officers are not at all sure how many radicals there are and how many are getting in by other routes.

Play Up Americanism.

The I. W. W. have become louder and more confident. At the beginning of the trouble the mine owners raised the American flag. But the I. W. W. went one better. At the head of their picket mobs they marched with band and flag. The flags rest in their headquarters as in a church. They carry it half mast when "a brother" dies. They display service buttons and talk of the constitution. On this ground they have gained quite a following among the planks of Denver, and the American Civil Liberties union and other organizations, even the Grace Methodist Episcopal church in Denver, follow their course with sympathy, and warn the authorities against harsher methods. Denver university students, as well as communist orators, have appeared on the platform at I. W. W. meetings.

POLICEMAN SHOT; O'CONNOR STARTS TEST OF STORY

While Vincent Gillespie, policeman attached to the vice and gambling detail of Chief of Police Michael Hughes' office, lay unconscious in St. Luke's hospital from the effects of a bullet wound, Capt. George O'Connor, head of the gambling squad, was ordered yesterday by Chief Hughes to make a thorough investigation of the shooting.

During the day, Gillespie recovered consciousness long enough to repeat to Lieut. Michael Grady his story that he was shot by two negroes while at 31st street and Cottage Grove avenue. Gillespie, who lives at 748 South Albany avenue, had not been home for two days, his wife said. She declared that she was contemplating divorce action.

ALDERMEN VOTE $10,000 TO FERGUS FOR COURT FIGHT

John B. Fergus' battle in the courts for state reapportionment to give Chicago its fair representation in the legislature received a boost yesterday when the city council's finance committee voted a $10,000 appropriation to help finance the suit.

Mr. Fergus, appearing before the committee, explained that, although his fight was successful in the lower court, his funds for paying a lawyer to file briefs before the Supreme court are running low. Subscriptions by seventy citizens have financed the suit thus far, he said.

"How much do you want?" two or three aldermen asked. Mr. Fergus suggested $5,000.

"That's not enough," said Ald. Guy Guernsey, (6th). "If he wins this suit it will be worth a million dollars to Chicago."

"Make it $10,000," was the proposal.

of Ald. James Bowler (15th), and this was adopted unanimously.

A decision in the case will probably be rendered by the Supreme court within a month or two, according to Mr. Fergus. Should the lower court be sustained the legislature will be obliged to reapportion the state as provided by the constitution.

Immigration Bureau to Rule on Olga Milanoff

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—[AP.]—Olga Milanoff, who has been involved in domestic difficulties with Frank Lloyd Wright, architect, "has never been admitted to this country for permanent stay," Byron E. Hearings on an action to deport the dancer have been completed at New York and the decision is expected soon.

HOLIDGE MAY CANDIDACY ON MONDAY

National Republican Committee to Parley.

ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—President Coolidge going to the door next Monday to his response under any circumstances?

is the question the politicians asked each other as a result of the question from the White House

when the President made it known that he would receive the memorandum of the Republican national committee next Monday and would have remarks to make to them.

It was not to be admitted to the press, but copies of his statement in the committee will be made available, it was learned.

Again on the Qui Vive.

These circumstances, in the opinion of Republican leaders who are in Washington in daily interview, point to a program of major importance.

It is as much speculation tonight

as the President's utterance as there has been for months on the interpretion of Coolidge's "I do not choose to be nominated if the convention

should draft him."

Many are convinced that the President has chosen his meeting with the national committee for a declaration of the effect that he will allow himself to be drafted. These are looking for a statement

Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune

akin to that famous one of Gen. Sherman's, which ran, "I will not accept if nominated, and I will not serve if electd."

Point to Recent Rebutals.

Those holding this view point out that to numerous associates in the last few weeks the President has somewhat testily commented on the failure of people to take him at his word, expressing amazement that there could be any doubt of the meaning of his statement of Aug. 2. On more than one occasion the President has been reminded that he did not definitely foreclose a renomination in that statement, and that unless he did so, millions of Republicans would continue to indulge the hope that he would accept a nomination if the convention

should draft him.

This situation has been emphasized by the recent wave of sentiment in the eastern part of the country favoring the re-nomination of Mr. Coolidge for another term.

It appears also that Republican leaders have been exerting a good deal of pressure on the White House to procure a statement from the President that would remove all doubts.

These leaders have forebodings regarding the party future if the present uncertainty continues up to the time the convention meets.

If it were known definitely that Mr.

Coolidge would not reject renomination

if drafted, the political atmosphere would be cleared, it is pointed out, and aspirants now hovering in the background would know where they are at and plan accordingly. Most of them probably would elect to fade from the picture, knowing that Mr. Coolidge would be drafted on the first ballot.

Party Peril in Situation.

Likewise, if it were established beyond a doubt that Mr. Coolidge would not accept, the candidates would be relieved of their haunting fears of futile aspirations and the party would be relieved of apprehensions of a convention catastrophe. Not a few leaders confess their anxiety concerning party solidarity if, after the present aspirants had sought the nomination, believing

Mr. Coolidge eliminated, the convention should draft him and he should accept.

Even worse, they feel, would be the situation if he were drafted and decline, whereupon the candidate eventually nominated would go before the people as the party's second choice.

No Choice for Convention City.

The President also made it known today that he has no preference among the convention cities. Four years ago the Republican convention would have gone to Chicago had he not expressed a preference for Cleveland.

The general understanding here is that Detroit will be selected. Henry

Ford will be here to press the city's claim upon the national committee

next week. The usual considerations weigh heavily in Detroit's favor. It has a new hall seating 17,000. It has a flock of new hotels. Michigan has no presidential candidate and no party scandals, and is the birthplace of the Republican party.

And when it comes to the important consideration of the liquor supply,

Windsor, Ont., is just across the river from Detroit with a five minute ferry service day and night.

NORRIS ASKS SENATE TO RESUME INQUIRY OF TEAPOT DOME CASE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Resumption of the senatorial oil scandal investigation to clear up the mystery surrounding the $3,000,000

Continental Trading company, Ltd.,

deal which figures so prominently in the Sinclair-Fall Teapot Dome conspi-racys case, will be advocated in congress by Senator George W. Norris

(Rep., Neb.).

Part of the profits of the Continental transaction—$230,700 in Liberty bonds

—has been definitely traced into the possession of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, soon after he leased the navy's Teapot Dome oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair, and Senator Norris wants to know what became of the balance.

Sinclair and his chief aid, Henry

Mason Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company, were served today with summonses issued by Justice Frederick L. Siddons citing them to appear next Monday to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court.

THEFT OF AUTOS WORTH $150,000 IS CHARGED TO PAIR

John G. Soeder, 30 years old, alleged by the police to have stolen in Chicago during the last year automobiles valued at $150,000, was arrested yesterday with Mrs. Mary Wagner Lopez,

24 year old café entertainer, in a flat maintained by Soeder at 3709

North Hamilton avenue.

Soeder, who has a long police record, was arrested by Sergeants Fred

Hinckens and John Sullivan of the automobile detail, when, in answering an advertisement offering automobiles

for sale, they found the car was stolen.

Soeder is wanted in Detroit to answer

twenty charges of automobile theft.

When police arrived they found Mrs.

Lopez alone. She showed them the car offered for sale, and they then learned it was stolen. Under questioning she confessed she knew the car was one of many that Soeder stole to resell. The police waited the return of Soeder, and when he drove up in another automobile, which also was found to have been stolen from William H.

Smith of 325 North Kostner avenue,

he was arrested.

Ten other stolen automobiles stored in west side garages were recovered.

LEAGUE RENEWS DRIVE TODAY TO DISARM WORLD

Russia's Presence Gives
New Hope for Success.

BULLETIN.

GENEVA, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Soviet delegation, proposed in behalf of Russia the complete abolishment of all land and sea forces at the opening of the preparatory disarmament commission this morning. The Soviet proposal, which created a sensation, also advocated the scrapping of all warships and the destruction of all fortresses, this, if accepted by the powers, to be carried out in a period of from one to four years.

GENEVA, Nov. 29.—(AP)—In resuming tomorrow its disarmament drive, the league of nations again is tackling its hardest assignment, and league leaders frankly admit that the problems connected with national defense, and particularly the problem of reducing armaments, are questions requiring infinite patience and years of unremitting toil.

The end of the world war left the conquering nations with huge armaments which in many countries have gradually been reduced. Nevertheless the burden upon the taxpayer is still so enormous and peace lovers in many countries are so persistently insisting that competitive armaments are endangering new wars, that there is plenty of evidence that the people of many lands want armies and navies reduced to a minimum. The very covenant of the league of nations declares that armaments shall be brought down to a point compatible with the needs of national security.

Russia Brightens Hopes.
At the end of October the sudden announcement by the soviet government of Russia that it would participate in the league's disarmament commission gave new hope in league circles that the problem of disarmament might really find some gradual solution. One of the outstanding difficulties in reduction of land armaments has been the contention of nations bordering on Russia that it would be difficult if not impossible for them to scale down their armaments with Russia standing aloof from any agreement of continental Europe and left entirely free to do as she pleased in building up a huge army.

Nonaggression pacts between the nations, including Russia, as the most certain means of increasing international security and improving the chances of success of disarmament efforts will, it is reported in league circles tonight, be proposed by the soviet delegation. Maxim Litvinoff and

CHICAGO PSYCHIATRIST IS BARRED IN SANITY TEST FOR MRS. SNYDER

New York, Nov. 28.—(Special).—Dr. Clarence A. Neuman, the Chicago psychiatrist, will not be permitted to interview or examine Mrs. Ruth Snyder in her cell at Sing Sing, State Commissioner of Corrections Dr. Raymond E. C. Kiehl decided today.

Former Judge Edgar W. Hamilton, Mrs. Snyder's chief counsel, who argued with Dr. Kiehl in Albany an hour and a quarter late this afternoon, seemed uncertain as he hurried to catch a train back to New York just what was to be done next. He already had appealed to Gov. Smith. His client, with her consort, Henry Judd Gray, is sentenced to die Jan. 12.

His soviet colleagues, however, declined to reveal their line of action.

The most reliable information is that the American delegation probably will decline to be represented on the special committee for the study of security, the appointment of which is the main question on the agenda. Both the United States and Russia as non-members of the league have been invited to sit on this committee.

As both Russia and Germany will insist on a general discussion of disarmament, with Germany advocating an early conference based on existing ac-curity, some opposition will doubtless develop to any plan which France and her friends may have to thrust the disarmament conference temporarily aside until security has been notably strengthened.

The outstanding chapter in post-war disarmament history was furnished by the Washington conference on limitation of naval armaments convoked by the late President Harding, which began on Nov. 12, 1921, and ended in the signature of a treaty on Feb. 6, 1922. While many Americans have insisted that this conference resulted in the relinquishment by the United States of supremacy on the seas, it is generally regarded in league circles that the Washington treaty gave a big push forward to the idea of disarmament, and there was general regret here that the three power conference later convoked by President Coolidge to extend the principles of the Washington treaty to auxiliary warships met with failure.

By the Washington treaty a limitation was fixed on the battleship strength of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy. In addition to this, the conference placed a limitation upon aircraft carriers and declared the maximum tonnage of individual cruisers should be 10,000 tons, with a maximum gun of 8 inches.

No limit was placed for the number of cruisers and it was this omission which last summer's three power naval conference tried to correct. More than that, the three power conference endeavored to secure an agreement for the limitation of destroyers and submarines. Success was practically achieved with reference to destroyers and submarines, but the conference collapsed chiefly because Great Britain and the United States were unable to reach an agreement as to the total tonnage of cruisers and the "eight inch gun cruiser."

Set Up Security Commission.

The September assembly of the league of nations, after an unexpected promising debate on the whole problem of disarmament, gave a new angle to the question. This was that after all, men cannot expect really to achieve the goal of disarmament until nations possess a greater sense of security than is afforded by the Locarno agreements, the covenant of the league itself, and the various treaties of arbitration which have been concluded between nations since the signature of peace at Versailles. Therefore it was decided to set up a special committee on security, which the main preparatory disarmament commission is to appoint tomorrow, and which is to labor simultaneously with the disarmament commission.

GUN IS LOADED, BANDIT PROVES; VICTIM PAYS $15

"You can't fool me with that thing—it's not loaded," scoffed Jacob Leaching, owner of a delicatessen store at 415 Beiden avenue, when held up last night by a man whom he thought carried a water gun. For a moment his life hung in the balance.

While Frank Busch, a customer, looked on the man slowly raised the muzzle of his weapon upward, hesitating at Leaching's head, and still farther up until it pointed at the ceiling. The gun roared and bits of plaster fell to the floor.

"Battered, mister?" the bandit queried. Leaching needed no further demonstration of the weapon's possibilities. Hurriedly he withdrew $15 from his cash drawer. "Take it," he demanded. The robber accepted the money and fled.

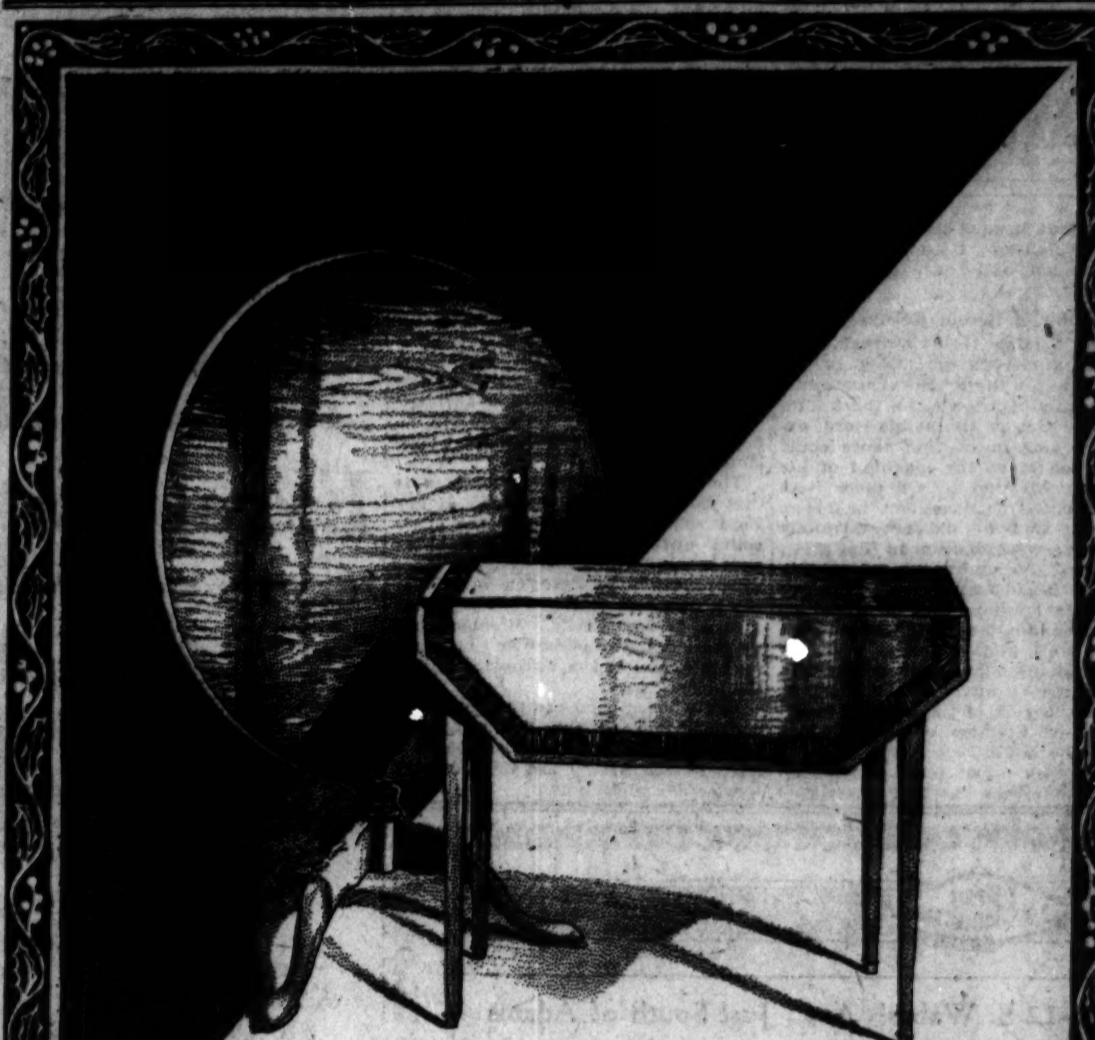

Public Spankings for Boys Save Cost of Court Fines

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Public spankings made the police court of Magistrate Bierman a noisy place today. He fined four boys $4.55 each for gazing another boy and pouring water on him, and then remitted the fines, providing their fathers would spank them soundly in the hallway.

U.S. FARMERS ON WAY TO RUSSIA TO FORM COLONY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, Nov. 29.—Forty-seven farmers and laborers from the United States who threw over their jobs in order to seize what they believe are the golden opportunities awaiting them in soviet Russia have reached London on the first lap of their trek to Moscow. They are led by Karl Fultur, a Boston carpenter.

"We became members of the co-operative group formed in the United States following the return of the last delegation from Russia," Mr. Fultur said.

There are many fine English tilt-top and Pembroke tables among the Colby antiques.

LITHUANIA WILL NEVER SIGN AWAY VILNA—PREMIER

Masses Army Near Land Seized by Poland.

BY DONALD DAY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
RIGA, Latvia, Nov. 29.—Neither the present nor any future government of Lithuania can be intimidated to sign any document relinquishing Lithuania's claim to Vilna, which was seized by Poland in 1920, Premier Waldemaras informed correspondents today in a discussion of the Polish-Lithuanian relations.

Premier Waldemaras considers war between the two countries an impossibility at the present moment because of the prestige of the league of nations involved. However, this does not mean that Lithuania is safe since Poland may arrange a camouflaged war with the aid of the Lithuanian exiles assembled at Vilna in an attempt to overthrow the present government and replace it with one that will be subservient to Warsaw.

Will Treat Rebels as Traitors.
Any group of putschists who attack the country will be treated as bandits and traitors, Premier Waldemaras continued. If they are taken prisoner they will be immediately tried by a field court martial and shot for treason, he added.

In the last week Lithuania has mobilized the three year reserve and the frontier of the Vilna district is strongly defended.
Reports here from Vilna say the Lithuanian socialist leader, M. Plechke, is engaged in organizing an army of Lithuanian volunteers which are being armed by the Poles. The signs of the Lithuanian Vilna group are friendship with Poland and a democratic government for Lithuania.

Lithuanian "Plot" Arrested.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

KOVNO, Lithuania, Nov. 29.—A secret meeting of the Lithuanian social democratic party at Kibarty, on the east Prussian border, was raided by political police, who after a hot fight arrested thirty persons. Many of the arrested persons were severely beaten.

Premier Waldemaras announced that all negotiations with the opposition parties have been broken off and no attempt will be made to form a coalition government before the league of nations meeting next week. The premier announced that he had complete control of the internal situation. He intends to attend the league meeting personally to plead Lithuania's case to the league.

M. Plechke, leader of the Lithuanian socialists, who is a refugee, left Vilna for Riga, a German border town adjoining Kibarty, to obtain additional evidence against the Waldemaras dictatorship, which he will present to the league.

Russia's Fears Not Allayed.
MOSCOW, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The newspaper Pravda, commenting on the Polish note outlining Poland's position in regard to Lithuania says: "The note leaves the possibility of a further threat and cannot therefore allay the grave fears induced by the latest news from the shores of the Niemen and the Vistula."

BRITISH AIRWAYS SHOW PROFIT FOR THE FIRST TIME
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—Sir Eric Geddes, presiding at the third annual meeting of the Imperial Airways, Ltd., today, announced that for the first time the company has earned a profit, the amount being £11,400 (about $57,000), as compared with a loss of £20,400 (about $102,000) last year. All the profit was earned on the European services, counterbalancing some of the loss on the eastern services.

Since Jan. 1, 1925, the company's planes have flown 2,500,000 miles, carrying 23,000 passengers, without injury to the passengers by accident.

Replying to the fact that most passengers have been American tourists, Sir Eric said that 45 per cent were British. The service on the Cairo-Basra line, he said, was 100 per cent efficient. He said the Cairo-Karachi line was held up only by the attitude of the Persian government.

M'ANDREW TRIAL WITNESS TO GET NO PAY, HE SAYS
Charles Grant Miller, New York newspaperman and chief witness for the prosecution in the trial of Supt. William McAndrew, who will continue his testimony when the trial is resumed this afternoon, will receive no remuneration for his services other than the publicity he gets, according to statements made yesterday by Miller and J. Lewis Coath, president of the school board.

Some years ago, according to his own statement, Miller edited the American History textbook by Guitau, which was assailed as un-American by Mayor Thompson during his campaign last spring. Miller explained his connection with the Guitau text to the mayor, he said. Since that time the alleged un-American qualities of that history have not been mentioned, it was pointed out.

AMERICAN RULE OFFENSIVE, SAYS FILIPINO LEADER

Quezon, Here, Pleads for Island Independence.

The United States will never convince the Filipinos, and the Filipinos will never admit, that Americans should remain in the Philippine Islands because the natives are incapable of self-government, Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, declared at the Hamilton club yesterday. The Filipinos will never be happy in their relationship with Americans if the relationship is based upon that premise, because it is offensive to their national dignity, he said.

In what his friends said was the frankest discussion of the Philippine problem he has made in this country, Mr. Quezon made an impassioned appeal for independence.

Want Control, at Least.

The Filipino leader and Senator Sergio Osmeña came here from Washington where they discussed with President Coolidge the next probable American governor-general of the Philippines as the result of the death of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood. The party is returning to Manila late in December.

Although insisting that his people desire a complete and immediate independence, the speaker declared that the Filipinos will be satisfied for the time if they may have full control of their own affairs.

"Gentlemen," he continued earnestly, "there is one thing we don't want to be and you will forgive me if I tell you this frankly. We don't want to be your subjects and you don't want us to be that. We are willing to have such relationship with you as may be necessary for the protection of your interest or ours in the Orient.

Good Trade Relations.

"There are several connections that might be considered. You might have preferential trade relations with us or we might maintain the same free trade relations we now have. You might also maintain naval and coaling stations in the Philippines so that you might be in a position to safeguard your interests."

Mr. Quezon declared he did not believe in the "Japanese menace." He gave two reasons for his belief that Japan would not invade the Philippines if the islands were given independence. "I don't think Japan wants to make any more conquests," he declared. "She knows how unpopular she is getting to be and how unpopular she was after her 21 demands of China."

"The second reason is that if it is true that the Philippines are of great commercial and strategic value, that very thing will be for her protection instead of being the source of her weakness."

Japan and England.

"No nation will permit another nation to get the Philippines. England could not afford to let Japan take over the Philippines. That would put Japan too near to Australia."

The United States has placed a "terrible indictment" against the Filipinos in refusing to allow them to select their own leader, the speaker asserted. It is an indictment which the natives will always resent, he said.

Last night Mr. Quezon spoke before more than 700 Filipinos at a banquet given in the Hotel La Salle, under the auspices of the Filipino Association of Chicago. President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university spoke, emphasizing the benefits accruing to universities which have foreign students.

WASHINGTON HAS A "CAT" BANDIT; ELUDES POSSES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—A burglar whose feline tread and frequent escapes have brought him the newspaper cognomen of "the Cat," has fashionable northwest Washington on the qui vive.

Ten days ago he began jimmying locks and prowling about bedrooms; now his career is an endurance contest, with the frazzled nerves of past and prospective victims barely holding their own against his ability to remain uncaptured.

Whether the Cat is one person or the proverbial multiple lives of several burglars with the formal number, bent on cashing in on the Cat's publicity campaign, is not of record.

Equipped with the tools of the trade, pistol and flashlight, the Cat has probed dresser drawers, pants pockets, and other treasure troves, nearly always with a profit. Once he had to cover his retreat with a shot, and another time he tarried to listen to sermon from a minister victim, who talked him out of the spoils. Residents of Cleveland Park, the Cat's prowling ground, have formed posses in vain, have hired private detectives to assist the police, and are leaving lights burning in their homes at night. One citizen has put up a flood light on the roof, aimed at his back yard.

in this city*

FRIDAY of this week will unquestionably be one of the most important days in the entire life of the automobile industry. On that day, complete details of the new Ford will be available in this city.

You will be surprised when you get the facts about the new Ford car, for you never have dreamed that such a really fine car could be produced at a low price. As Henry Ford himself says—

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

The new Ford car is distinctly a new and modern car, designed to meet new and modern conditions. It is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

An entirely new car in every respect

The minute you see it—ride in it—you will realize that it is not a mere refinement of the former model T Ford, but a new car from radiator cap to rear axle! Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments. Some are wholly new in automobile practice. There is nothing quite like it in quality and price.

The new Ford car has unusual beauty of line and color. . . . It has a 40-horse-power engine. . . . It will do 55 and 60 miles an hour with ease and has actually run 65 miles an hour on road tests. . . . It is quiet and smooth-running at all speeds. . . . It is remarkably quick on the get-away. . . . It has specially designed mechanical four-wheel brakes. . . . It has hydraulic shock absorbers. . . . It has a standard, selective gear shift. . . . It is quick and easy to handle in traffic and steady and sure on the open road. . . . It runs 20 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline, depending on your speed. . . . And it has the stamina and reliability that you need for mile-after-mile and year-after-year service.

The new Ford car has exceptional beauty of line and color. It is, in every respect, a new and modern car, designed and created to meet modern conditions.

The new Ford car will sell at a surprisingly low price

When you think of such features as these, you think instinctively of a car costing much more than the new Ford. The low price is as unusual as the appearance and performance of the car itself.

The low prices of the six body types are undoubtedly lower than you thought they would be when you first heard that Ford was making a new car. They are, in fact, lower than we thought they could possibly be when we started to make this car.

We determined to bring new comfort, beauty, speed, safety, economy and reliability within reach of everybody who drives a car, and then forced ourselves to find ways to make the low prices possible.

The new Ford car is the result of years of careful planning. Every part of it has been tested and retested in actual practice. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it is the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the lifetime of the Ford business.

Some of the features of the new Ford car

In this connection we call your particular attention to the new engine; the new pump, splash and gravity oil system; the multiple dry-disc clutch; the new pump and thermo-syphon cooling system; the new battery, coil and distributor ignition; the low center of gravity and minimum unsprung weight which combine with the hydraulic shock absorbers to make the new Ford such an easy-riding car; the irreversible steering gear, with the column and the housing of the steering gear mechanism welded into a single all-steel unit; the seamless, all-steel torque tube; the new one-piece, welded, steel-spoke wheels; the three-quarters-floating rear axle in a forged-steel housing of exceptional strength; the theft-proof coincidental lock; and the aluminum pistons which were selected after many tests because of their light weight and heat-conducting qualities.

Steel forgings are used throughout

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

Henry Ford

except, of course, for the engine castings. More steel forgings, in fact, are used in the new Ford than in almost any other car, regardless of price.

WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs. Because we own our own ore mines, coal mines and timber lands and the source of most of our raw materials. Because we make virtually every part used in the new Ford car. Because it is the Ford policy to make a small profit on a large number of cars, rather than a large profit on a small number of cars.

There is nothing like it in quality or price

No other manufacturer can possibly duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do. The public made this business possible. We believe we should share our profits with the public by continually giving greater and greater value for the money.

There are good and substantial reasons, therefore, why the new Ford car is the most unusual value ever offered in a low-price car.

By all means, learn about the new Ford on Friday when it is officially announced in this city. You will know then that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

COAL IN COLORADO.

Mr. Kinsley's dispatches from the Colorado coal fields contain material which will be seized upon by the propagandists on both sides in the controversy. He leaves little doubt that the I. W. W. mobilized in Colorado looking for trouble and fully prepared for it. He also leaves little doubt that the mines were operated in a way to make the task of the agitators relatively easy.

Under the circumstances, the obvious comment is that neither side is wholly in the right with the truth lying somewhere in between the opposing contentions. That is dismaying the problem too easily. The fact is that Colorado is not unique. The coal fields of this country, and in fact, of almost all industrial countries, have been the scenes of a long series of strikes. It is only a few weeks ago that the strike in Illinois and Indiana came to an end after six months of idleness. The fight is still on in Pennsylvania. Strikes have occurred frequently in recent years in the mines of England and Germany and have generally been accompanied by violence. Illinois is not likely to forget the bloodshed at Herrin. The world-wide unrest in the coal fields is probably unparalleled in any other industry. To consider Colorado as if its difficulties were unexampled is to do the miners and mine operators of Colorado an injustice. Colorado is at the moment in focus. Tomorrow the same phenomenon may be observed in Kentucky or the Ruhr.

These disturbances have a common cause. Competitive fuels are being employed to produce steam for power. More economical methods of burning coal are being employed which tend further to reduce the demand. Electricity generated from falling water is creating further competition. The consequence is that the mining of coal, except under most favorable circumstances, is not profitable as it once was. Prices and markets are insecure. Management has grown timid in introducing improved methods of operation because capital for the purchase of machinery is sometimes difficult to obtain and the prospect of its earning a return is none too bright. The tendency in the industry is to take a chance on conflict rather than make concessions to maintain peace because both miners and operators feel they have little to lose in a strike. The frequent disturbances in the industry are only an evidence of the fact that coal mining is not profitable. There is not enough in it to go around.

If there is anything peculiar to the strike in Colorado it is the dominance there of the Rockefeller interests. While it is difficult to pass judgment on the matter at this distance, there is evidence that Mr. Rockefeller is not the industrial statesman that eager propagandists had been leading the world to believe him. The company unions and welfare program with which his name is associated appear to have hidden but not suppressed grave discontent. His plan of maintaining good relations in the coal fields has failed but it would be unfair to attribute the failure wholly to the plan. The failure is the result of unsound conditions in the coal industry, and until the industry as a whole has been reorganized on a profitable basis it is not likely that any scheme, no matter how generously conceived, is likely to succeed.

MEXICO REFORMS.

The Mexican government has apparently bowed to the demands of the United States with regard to the rights of foreign property owners in Mexico. A few days ago the Mexican Supreme court granted an American oil company an injunction to restrain the Mexican government from taking steps toward confiscation under the Mexican land laws. The decision has now been accepted as a guiding principle by the Mexican department of commerce, industry and labor.

The turn of events was hardly unexpected. It was anticipated by many students of Mexican relations. For example, the New York correspondent of the London Statist, writing as long ago as Sept. 23, said: "The outstanding problem... seems definitely in sight of solution through the reversal of executive action by the highest court in Mexico. In the face of a decision from the court to the effect that the constitution has been erroneously interpreted in this regard the president of Mexico can retire with grace from his position, saying that the word of law shall be supreme. His violent outbursts in connection with the subject in his recent message to the Mexican congress may be taken as indicative of the course of events; for on the eve of abandoning the position hereafter held he might well deem it expedient to indulge in polemical statements intended for internal consumption."

The acceptance of the decision by the Mexican executive is an indication that our Mexican policy is bearing fruit. Previous attempts from Washington to maintain American rights in Mexico through cajolery, note writing, or blustering got nowhere. The Mexicans refused to be cajoled, frequently outwore our state department, and saw the reality behind our threats. The present policy of polite firmness is producing results where other methods failed.

Possibly Mexico is at least learning that it does not pay to force foreigners to abandon their properties. Possibly Mexican officials are learning that most of their troubles are of their own making. The persecution of foreign oil companies has been one reason for the sharp falling off in production in the Mexican oil fields. This has resulted in serious loss of revenue to the Mexican government, which had looked to its oil royalties for an important part of the government's income. A crisis of unemployment in the oil regions followed as well from the slowing down of production. Unemployment has made it easier to revolt, and could be put down only by a further drain on the already depleted treasury. The recent revolutionary outbreaks made it more than have the important to the Mexican government to have the United States maintain its embargo on arms. If the embargo had been lifted the revolutionists' chances of success would have been increased a hundred fold. The maintenance of the embargo may be interpreted as an evidence of American friendship.

Not the least remarkable aspect of the recent reversal of policy in Mexico is the fact that Mexico, in accepting our view, is doing at last what is best for the Mexican people. The Mexican government is now laying foundations for security and prosperity. Any relaxing of our policy will be no kindness to Mexico.

OUR STATE ROADS POLICY JUSTIFIED.

It is the fate of a newspaper's editorial page to be forever advocating things. We accept our share of the task, sometimes we think—and perhaps our readers do also—more than our share. It is a job of harping day after day on one string. We do not do it for the pleasure there is in it. Editorials urging roads for Chicago, Cook county, and the metropolitan area have occupied a great deal of our space in the past few years. In the hands of Gov. Small the road fund was used. Cook county and its neighborhood were unfairly neglected. The few roads that were built were narrow. We took the case. We burdened our readers with statistics and argument; we spent time and money in investigations. Month after month, news story followed news story, editorial followed editorial.

Then, a few months ago, Gov. Small agreed to spend several million dollars in Cook county, matching the $15,000,000 to be spent by the county. And a few nights ago, speaking at a good roads banquet, the governor publicly approved forty foot roads and grade separations. The state has, in fact, already built quite a few miles of roadway in the county and much of this has been forty feet wide. The state highway department is giving the question of grade separations attention. Gov. Small has been brought to time. He has been made to realize that Chicago and Cook county were tired of unfair treatment in the matter of roads. And we think we have had a part in bringing about this change of heart. That, and not any pleasure in writing editorial after editorial on roads, more roads, wide roads, safe roads, is our justification.

GANGSTER'S END.

Sociologists have studied and written about the gang. The gang is a normal product of boyhood. It answers the boy's instinct to run in a pack. If it is a good gang, it is a good thing for the boy and for the community. If it is a bad gang, it is a catastrophe. There is also an age when a boy normally leaves gang life; if he stays too long, it usually means trouble.

Two young men of 23 and a boy of 18, all members of the west side's "42" gang, were in Friday morning's news. And the news was crime news.

One young man was found guilty of the rape of a 17 year old girl, and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. The boy was convicted as his accessory and received a three year prison term. It was the first conviction in a series of similar cases. Though the sentences might well have been more severe, in keeping with the gravity of the offense, the case will prove salutary in preventing further crimes of the sort.

The other young man, reputed leader of the gang, died in the hospital of wounds received when he attempted to escape from a policeman who caught him stripping an automobile.

This, then, is the record of the "42" gang—rapists and thieves. Such gangs constitute one of the great evils of city life. They could be good gangs. Perhaps the fate of their comrades will teach the remaining members of the "42" gang that they are headed in the wrong direction.

Editorial of the Day

AMERICANIZATION NEEDED.

(The Beloit (Wis.) Daily News.)
Chicago is in the throes of another gang war. Bombs are flying around the place and smashing up rival gangsters' headquarters. The feeding underworld runs to the teeth. The backing of sawed-off guns and the cracks of machine guns may soon be heard. The police rather helplessly plead for peace between the factions.

Meanwhile, Chicago's doughty mayor ralls and inveighs vainly about the threat of an invasion by King George of England. Chicago's executive staff, who keeps demanding in the name of "America first" that Chicago school histories shall bristle with all the hyphens represented in the Chicago dictionary, seems unperturbed when Chicago's alien gangland bristles threateningly with deadly armament.

Chicago newspapers grow purple in the face condemning "radicalism" in Wisconsin while the indigenous condottieri toss bombs around in Chicago with a more reckless abandon than ever was displayed by the reddest nihilists of Russia.

The Chicago newspapers and the Chicago mayor, while shouting about the alleged iniquities of the dry laws, play right into the hands of gangsters, who have made hijacking, bootlegging, and gambling a big business that the police apparently, under the influence of loose Chicago public sentiment, make only the weakest efforts at sporadic intervals to interfere with.

The spectacle of the police of America's second greatest city guarding rival lawbreakers from attacks upon each other and trying to cajole them into keeping the peace among themselves could occur only in Chicago, under such a regime of petty politics as the metropolis has got by enthroning its present dominant political gang.

How to Keep Well

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

LITTLE DEAFNESS IS CAUSED BY DISEASE.

CONTAGIOUS disease is not responsible for most deafness, relatively speaking. This is an inference drawn from a report of a committee on scientific research, found in the Volta Review. The committee has been investigating instrumental aids for the deaf. One method of investigation was to send out a questionnaire to a large number of deaf people.

In an investigation of 7 people out of 32 attributed their deafness to 23 causes: 3 to measles, 1 to mumps, 1 to abscesses, and 1 to tonsils. In another investigation in which 38 replies were analyzed, only 1 person attributed his deafness to scarlet fever, and 1 to spinal meningitis.

In all probability "ringing in the head," discharging ears and adenoids far outweigh ordinary contagion as a cause of deafness. Of the several forms of contagion scarlet fever is much the most important as a cause of deafness. The deaf are nearly always annoyed by head noises. In one investigation, 3 replied that they did not have head noises; 12, that their head noises were slight; in 7, variable; 14, moderate; 15, severe. This was a total of 48 out of 55.

In a second investigation, 56 out of 104 complained of head noises; 23 complaining them as severe and 48 as moderate. In a third group of 36 replies, 13 were not annoyed, while 23 were: 11 of the 23 described the head noises as being severe; 3 of this group said their head noises were disappearing. No other answers to this effect were chronicled. We wonder whether the head noises were disappearing or whether it was the annoyance that was being overcome.

A person can train himself to disregard head noises, just as we train ourselves to disregard noises of varied kinds from all sorts of sources.

Life would not be livable for the man in the city did he not train himself in this kind of mental deafness. Nor is this training difficult. Babies are readily trained to disregard sounds of adults learn the almost as readily. Training oneself to disregard head noises is likewise easy. The man who permits himself to be emotionally disturbed by such noises belongs in some such classification as we make for those who are emotionally disturbed by sleeplessness, to wit, poor sleepers, insomnia, and sufferers from insomnia.

CURE FOR AUTOINTOXICATION.
J. E. K. writes: "What is the cause and meaning of autointoxication and what is the best cure for it?"
Autointoxication, in so far as there is such a condition, is a combination of the effects of eating too much and exercising too little, and constipation. The cure consists in eating less and exercising more, and overcoming constipation by using one of our milk, vegetable, fruit, and bran.

GOVERNMENT WAGES.
Chicago, Nov. 27.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—About one year ago I signed, as a co-signer, without any security, a note for $100,000. I had not made a loan from an agency. He had not paid the full amount, and they claim that I must pay it.

Since that date I, myself, have failed in business, and have my furniture, automobile, and credit mortgaged so heavily that I can just about exist, to support my wife and baby, and it will take probably ten years to pay up.

I am now seeking the postoffice and would like to know whether this agency has the right to garnish my wages, which they are preparing to do.

N. W.
No. the wages of a U. S. employee are not subject to garnishment.

HIGH COST OF BORROWING.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I have borrowed $50 from a loan company. I paid $5 a week for 17 weeks, or until I paid $85. The various papers I signed for the loan were not returned to me when it was paid. I have now asked for them and was informed that three of my payments were two days late and there was a charge of $2 on each delayed payment, or $6 in all. The loan company threatens to, assign my wages for the $6.

1. Can they do this?
2. Is such a rate as $35 for the use of $50 for 17 weeks a legal rate in Illinois?

W. E. G.
1. They are not entitled to make such a charge unless the contract provides.
2. Not as interest. But conceivably legal charges for looking up the loan, etc., might be this large.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.

GET IT IN WRITING.
Chicago, Nov. 27.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Recently I rented a house and the landlord promised in the presence of witnesses to repair the gutters and downspouts of the roof, also the latter if necessary, and the furnace. He has done neither, although having been reminded several times by phone and by letter. The roof leaks when it rains and spoils the ceilings of three rooms. On account of the rotten gutters windows cannot be kept open when it rains. Is the fact that the landlord does not keep his part of the bargain a sufficient reason for me to break the lease, although it was not made a written part of same?

J. A. K.
In the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, the law treats the tenant as taking the property "as is." If the tenant wishes to sue for damages, he must either stipulate in the lease or must do it himself.

If a written contract purports on its face to be a complete expression of the whole agreement, oral understandings incidental to the execution of the contract, and cannot be proven in court to change the written contract.

TABLE D'HOTE.

I had forgotten... but the sign is there
Stinging above the dingy street and lit
By gaudy lights, the place so often where
We came to dine and made a feast of it:
The buzzon pictures and the little square
Table we marked our special place to sit,
Experimenting with Italian fare,
Recounting hours, bit by important bit.
Place of our dim enchantment! As I pass,
A pair of lovers coming down the stair
Pause for a kiss. As in a looking glass
I mark them—how you stooped so to my lips,
Framing my face in urgent finger tips,
And now I will not see you any more.

CAROLA.

ANNOUNCEMENTS are now being made throughout the country over the signature of R. H. L., regarding the new 1932 Model D Linebook. In describing the new product, R. H. L. admitted that the new model Linebook is radically different from Model C, the 1928 Linebook. It will be very easy reading, with no jolts or bumps, and has a patent laugh absorber in the rear lining. "The new Model D Linebook," said R. H. L., modestly, "will be offered to the great American public on Friday of this week. We consider it the most important contribution to science, prosperity, happiness, liberal arts, music, drama, culture, and far relief that has ever been made."

"Let Music Swell the Breeze and Ring From All the (Christmas) Trees"

Wouldn't you rather have Steinway

—and Have the Best $1425

THIS new Steinway at $1425 is as true a Steinway as that which Hofmann played at Orchestra Hall last Sunday. Until lately only in mahogany, at $1525, this model is now presented in a rich ebony black (and black pianos so favored by decorators!) for $100 less. If the best is your quest, what, pray, but a Steinway!—when we make terms so attractive.

WITHIN the soft gleam of untold numbers of American Christmas trees, there will be born or rekindled that love-some, home-brightening spirit which is Music. The inspiration wrought by the gift of some new instrument, will mark the beginning of a joyous, lifelong companionship for many. Over 800,000 school boys and girls throughout the land are engaged in piano and other musical study. Lyon & Healy is equipping newly forming school bands and orchestras in increasing numbers. And our own Saxophone Band and Accordion Club, enrolling both beginners and more advanced players for practice, are further evidence of what Young America would like for Christmas!

Steinway
Louis XV Model

URGE BUSINESS, FEDERAL HELP IN FARM RELIEF

Farm relief, through help from the nation's business and government and through the organizations of farmers themselves, was urged by Secretary Jardine, as a cabinet official, and by Charles Nagel, as chairman of a farm committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Both are here to meet various groups drawn to Chicago by the International Live Stock show and its allied activities. Mr. Nagel, who was a member of the Taft cabinet as secretary of commerce and labor, spoke at the Hotel Sherman before country editors yesterday afternoon. Mr. Jardine talked last night at a banquet at the Congress hotel before various state commissioners of agriculture and marketing specialists.

Both Offer Remedies.

Mr. Nagel, speaking as a business man, favored a board, jointly representing business, farming and the government, to hold surplus crops and prevent demoralization of prices. He believed private financing largely should be relied upon. Mr. Jardine said the $5,000,000 farmers should learn mass marketing.

"Give me," he said, "200,000,000 of the nation's 800,000,000 bushel wheat produced annually; let me put it in the hands of a specialized sales force and I will show you some stabilizing of the market."

Mr. Jardine said that cooperative marketing on an immense scale,

NEW U. S. HEALTH CHAMPIONS

Marie Antrim, 15, of Kingman, Kan., and J. Fred Christman, 18, of Blanchard, Ia., designated as health champions of the Four-H club with Olive Van Vuren of Shawano county, Wis., who proved to the judges that she was the finest judge of style in the club.

A committee of physicians who examined Christman found that he was 99 per cent perfect in the physical development. Miss Antrim's score was 99.15 per cent.

Miss Van Vuren won her title of style champion with an exhibit of a blue school dress which she had made herself.

Miss Antrim is a good looking, bobbed hair girl in her second year at high school. Christensen, who graduated from high school last spring, was a school athlete, playing on the football and basketball teams. He is now working on a farm.

Miss Antrim is one of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Antrim. She has three brothers and three sisters. Young Christensen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Christensen, has a brother. Miss Antrim said she loved tennis, played on the girls' baseball team. "I eat all sorts of vegetables," she said, "but don't care much for meat, although I eat some occasionally."

Young Christensen gets up with the sun and does a farmer's work. During his school career he was active in most of the sports. He isn't sure whether he will go to college.

And meanwhile the administrative affairs of the International Live Stock show were carried on by 3 changes in the board of directors. Charles N. Stanton, president of the Stockyards National bank, succeeded the late Mr. S. T. Kiddoo, Chicago, while Oakleigh Thorne, Pine Plains, N. Y., replaced I. M. Forbes, Henry, Ill., also deceased. A. B. Cook, Townsend, Mo., a Hereford breeder, succeeded Thomas Clark of Beecher, Ill. All other officers and directors were re-elected.

CROWDS AT HORSE SHOW

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Another capacity throng assembled last night at the horse show at the International Amphitheater.

One of the stellar competitions ensued in the Class 34 for three gaited stallions, mares or geldings with eleven contestants. The class for hunters was the thriller of the evening.

A Merchant's Friend

— the Neighborhood Bank

JOHN WILSON IS A MERCHANT IN one of the outlying business sections of Chicago. He is like many men you know who are operating stores in these commercial districts and in the surrounding territory—careful, and progressive, enjoying a profitable trade built up by buying right and selling at fair prices. Mr. Wilson has learned the advantage of using his Neighborhood Bank. He not only carries an account there but often discusses business matters with its officers. They talk over the growth of population in their section, the state of competition, the prospect for new building and other local conditions. When he has money to invest they give him helpful suggestions and when he requires a loan he does not hesitate to tell them of his needs. He knows that the Neighborhood Bank is his friend and ally. Mr. Wilson has learned that a good bank's service goes far beyond the routine functions of receiving, and paying out money and he is profiting by his knowledge. He is using his Neighborhood Bank to the utmost advantage. The officers of your Neighborhood Bank will gladly give you their helpful co-operation just as Mr. Wilson's bank is helping him. Get acquainted with them.

BEILIAN ENVOY ADMIRAL PRIZE LIVE STOCK HERE

Prince and Princess Find Chicago's Speedy.

Important visitors from Europe arrived at the International Live Stock exposition yesterday and expressed surprise at the magnitude of the show. They were Prince Albert and Princess Lilian, of Belgium, who arrived here on the ship Belgian from Antwerp. The prince and princess were escorted through the exposition by the directors. The prince was particularly interested in seeing the exhibit of Belgian draft horses, and he is to award the King Albert cup to the owner of the grand champion Belgian draft horse.

Show a Revelation.
The exhibition of cattle, sheep, and swine is a revelation to me. I really did not know that America had advanced this far," said the ambassador, who is the first of the royal couple to visit his country. He had been expert stock raiser for generations before the United States was a nation. He has one must have warned the prince in advance that he would find Chicago a place where everybody always seems to be in a rush. The first thing he said to the princess after their arrival at the Drake hotel was: "This is Chicago; we must hurry. It is just like a wedding picture," he commented. "O, heavens, that's just what I need!" he interjected. The princess de Ligne picked up a flower from a nearby vase and placed it in her lap. "Now, my dear," he announced, "but we must be quick."

The ambassador and the princess were guests at a luncheon given at the Quadrangle club on the campus of the University of Chicago by President and Mrs. M. M. Mason. Among those who attended the luncheon were Harold H. Swift, Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, the French and Belgian consuls and Vice President and Mrs. Frederick C. Woodward of the university.

COMMERCE MEN YIELD NO GROUND ON COOLIDGE TAX

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Replying to criticisms by President Coolidge against his tax reduction program, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reiterated its insistence today that taxes should be cut more sharply than proposed by the administration.

"The national chamber believes it will aid the country more to bring the remaining war taxes to a more nearly normal basis than to reduce the national debt more rapidly than is already provided by statute," said a statement issued by Lewis E. Pierson, president of the chamber. "It does not believe that unusual surpluses now should be amassed to be used for debt retirement. From sinking fund requirements of congress alone the national debt will be reduced in the next fourteen years to an amount equal to the reduction of the last eight years. To this figure must be added end of the year surpluses, foreign debt payments, and other items which will further reduce the national debt."

IDIOSYNCRASIES OF REMUS BRING BRAWL IN COURT

Two Attorneys Testify He Was Insane.

where they got it," Elston said. "The first thing they know they'll find themselves in contempt."

The session today was replete with acrimonious clashes between Attorneys Elston and Basler. The court repeatedly warned them and then ordered Sheriff William Anderson to restrain the two men with physical force if necessary.

Called Remus to Office.

Former District Attorney Curry of St. Louis told the jury he had sent for Remus while he was preparing the Jack Daniels liquor prosecution for presentation to the grand jury. Remus was to have been a witness. He wanted to find out what Remus knew of the matter. He said Remus came to his office.

"I told him to sit down," the lawyer said. "He sat down on one corner of my desk. I then took a pad of paper and told him to tell me what he knew of the case."

"He began to talk about buying out the Jack Daniels certificates and about that time he suddenly said, 'Curry, that man Dodge has taken the one thing in this life that is precious to me, my little wife. After I trusted her and gave her my power of attorney for everything I own, that man Franklin Dodge has taken her away from me and ruined my life for ever.'"

"He got up. He walked the floor. He wrung his hands. He jabbed himself in the side. He pulled his hair. Tears ran down his cheeks. Great drops of perspiration stood on his forehead and he raved that way for probably ten or fifteen minutes. 'I tried to get him to sit down and be quiet, and talk to me about the other matter, but he raved and raved and raved.'"

Feared Attempt on Life.

"His face was drawn, his muscles were contorted, he had glassy eyes; and he told me in one of his conversations before he left the office, that he was being watched by detectives—that they had hired gangsters to kill him, and he left my office without ever giving me a coherent statement of the case at all; in fact, without making a lucid statement."

"Mr. Curry, what opinion did you form," Attorney Elston asked, "that he was sane or insane?"

"My opinion was that he was wholly insane," Attorney Oppenheimer, a grave, calm, courteous man, said he met Remus on the day the latter returned from Atlanta prison to Cincinnati. He said he had been asked to associate himself with other attorneys to represent Remus in the divorce case his wife had started.

He told how he accompanied Remus to his Price Hill mansion, the latter chatting lightly and predicting his wife would soon return to him, how they arrived at the house where Remus was to discover for the first time that it had been stripped of everything in it.

Wore Prison Clothing.

"He still had on the prison clothing from Atlanta," the lawyer said. "He asked me to go out with him to change his clothes. It was when he got there and discovered the house practically

2 WOMEN FIGHT DIVORCE DECREES GIVEN IN MEXICO

The validity of two divorces obtained in Mexico by Chicagoans is being contested before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath. In both cases, the husbands obtained decrees in Mexico and have been remarried, yet the divorced wives are asking separate maintenance under the statutes of Illinois.

Obtaining a divorce in Nogales, Sonora, and the subsequent remarriage of Charles A. Stoll, former president of the Laurel Rug company, was not known until yesterday, when Mrs. Hattie J. Stoll of 5135 North Robey street, to whom he was married in 1901, filed an amended bill for separate maintenance.

Attorney Frank J. Link, representing Stoll, said he will appear in court next week with a plea at bar to dismiss the separate maintenance suit on the grounds that the Mexican decrees are valid and binding.

Attorney Link will appear before Judge Sabath this morning with a similar motion in behalf of William Brommer, manager of the King Baking company. He is being sued for separate maintenance by Mrs. Clara Brommer, from whom he obtained a Mexican divorce a year ago.

PERFECT PROTECTION

Two Things You Should Think About!

Protecting your family by life insurance has two important phases—

1. Is the insurance adequate in amount?

2. How is the principal protected for the purpose for which it is provided?

You answer the first question. Let me explain the second.

Under the old way life insurance is paid in a lump sum. Is your wife a wise investor? Will she avoid pitfalls? Or is there a chance of her losing the money you leave?

Secure your family's safety by an insurance trust—which protects your money after you are gone. Let me explain these trusts today.

Mr. Kelly, in 1920, was appointed a special assistant United States district attorney, prosecuting several important cases in the federal courts. He is now a member of the firm of Dever & Kelly, 32 West Randolph street.

Judge Comerford, elected on the coalition ticket at the last judicial election, will be inaugurated to the bench with ceremonies Monday morning.

John J. Kelly, city attorney under the Dever administration, was appointed a master in chancery yesterday as the first official act of Superior Judge Frank Comerford.

In 1924, Judge Comerford and Mr. Kelly were elected to the bench in an election declared void because Gov. Len Small had refused to issue the call.

Light-Weight Two-Layer Fabric, Wool
in Outer Layer, Cotton Inner Layer, Air Space Between... No Wool Itch

YOU can't enjoy cold weather if your underwear is too thick and heavy! That means you're too hot indoors—you perspire and you're apt to catch cold.

You can't enjoy cold weather if your underwear does not protect you. You shiver and shake outdoors—and you're even more apt to catch cold.

But when you wear Duofold, you get the ideal combination of perfect comfort indoors, ample warmth outdoors and a degree of health protection not afforded by any other underwear!

The reason is found in the fact that Duofold is made of a two-layer fabric—two thin layers with air space between. The outer layer contains wool for warmth; the inner layer, next to the skin, is all cotton—the wool can't touch the body. Wool itch is impossible.

A Duofold garment, although light, helps prevent body chill and therefore catching cold. The inner layer that first absorbs body moisture is protected from cool air by the outer layer. Cold is kept out. The body is kept at a more even temperature.

It is a fact that uncounted thousands have learned, that with Duofold, you are surprisingly comfortable even in overheated rooms and then happily warm outdoors in zero weather.

Try it for one winter and you'll want to wear it every winter. And what better health and comfort insurance could you provide your children, even to the baby?

Made in a variety of fabric combinations and styles at reasonable prices. Sold by leading department, dry goods and men's furnishing stores

Chicago Good Fellows yesterday re-

the tenement sections of the south and

"Electricity!— The Master of Mass Production"

Says Dr. Henry Mace Payne Consulting Engineer, American Mining Congress.

"America's prosperity is the fruit of intelligent power development, with skilled direction and mass production, paying the highest wages in the world, her workmen enjoying a higher standard of living than ever before.
Wherever we look about us we find the evidences of the co-partnership between brains and business."

ELECTRIC power may rightfully be regarded as one of the world's basic industries. It is mankind's most tireless and efficient servant.

By means of its magic current,
forces are unleashed that free labor from excessive burden; homes are made happier and more comfortable, and the wealth of the nation multiplied many times over.

The wealth is that not taken from others by trade, but new wealth, wrung from the treasure house of science, enhancing individual production capacity forty fold and increasing wages proportionately.

It is obvious, therefore, that the well-being of everyone depends upon the accessibility and abundance of electric power.

Through the foresight, initiative and commercial daring of the electric power companies of this country, American industry today is supplied with more power than all the rest of the world combined—twenty-four times more power than was available twenty-four years ago—and at a cost less than the pre-war price.

To the degree that the principle of individual initiative, under which these companies have functioned is maintained, will the continued prosperity of the nation as a whole be assured.

DRAFT OF BUDGET EXCLUDES EXTRA POLICE, FIREMEN

Controller's '28 Estimate Increased $1,000,000.

Chicago apparently will have to get along next year without a single new policeman or fireman unless the city council, in drafting the corporate fund budget, is able to find revenues which, according to the estimates of Controller Fitzmorris, are now nowhere in sight.

Mr. Fitzmorris will submit to the council today a tentative draft of the budget, totaling $58,871,000, an approximate increase of $1,000,000 over that for 1927. It provides for only slight increases in allotments to the various city departments, and practically the same personnel in all of them.

Blow to Chiefs.
"It was only to be expected," commented Ald. John S. Clark, (30th), chairman of the finance committee to which Mr. Fitzmorris' figures will be referred. "The committee, of course, will do its best to put every cent where it is most needed, but we certainly will stay within the revenues." Mr. Fitzmorris' report, it was said, will come as a crushing blow to the hopes of Chief of Police Michael Hughes, who has requested 3,000 new policemen, and to Fire Commissioner A. W. Goodrich, who wants 1,000 more firemen. To meet these requests would require between $4,000,000 and $10,000,000 in additional salary appropriations. Even the most optimistic of the advocates of more uniformed men, after the disclosure of the controller's estimates, admitted that the police and fire heads will be fortunate to increase their forces at all.

Revenue Limited.
One of Mayor Thompson's finance bills provided for a 40 cent increase in the corporate fund tax rate. Under the tax levy ordinance, passed prior to the passage of the finance bills last June, however, the city is limited to $43,000,000 in tax revenues, thereby being able to take advantage of only a small part of the increase. Miscellaneous revenues, amounting to about $15,000,000, form the only other corporate fund source of income, making the total available approximately $58,000,000, all of which is spread in the Fitzmorris budget draft.

According to the controller's computations, it was understood, the city, after passing the 1928 budget, will still have to carry over a deficit of about $1,000,000 to be met out of revenues expected to be forthcoming in 1929. Whether the finance committee will allow this deficit to stand is problematical. Should it be eliminated, appropriations to some of the departments probably will have to be lopped off still further.

THREE HELD IN BURGLARY ATTEMPT.
Three men charged with the attempted burglary of a dress shop at 1305 Wilson avenue were held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $2,500 each. They are Thomas Louis of 84, Louis John Weber, 324 Oakdale avenue, and Herbert Vaughn, 223 Galt avenue.

FATHER PUT ON TRIAL AS SLAYER OF DAUGHTER, 3

William Goeckel, 30 years old, an engineer for an ice company, went on trial yesterday in the Criminal court on a charge of murdering his 3 year old daughter, Elaine. At the end of the day four jurors had been selected.

Attorneys for Goeckel indicated he would plead insanity. According to state witnesses, he had been fined $10 on a charge of beating his wife, Goeckel to their home at 1023 Addison street.

he stabbed Mrs. Goeckel, severely wounding her, and then killed the infant, the state charges. Then he tried to end his own life. Mrs. Goeckel survived.

Walter Mack, colored, was granted a new trial yesterday on a charge of murder. He was recently found guilty and sentenced to death. It was alleged that he had killed I. M. Weinstein, pawn broker at 110 South State street, during a holdup. When the new trial was granted Mack pleaded guilty and Judge Otto Kerner fixed his punishment at life in the penitentiary.

SCALDING FATAL TO GIRL, 4.

BLOODY MONEY IS EVIDENCE IN LILLIENDAHL CASE

Charge Widow Took Bills from Slain Husband.

May's Landing, N. J., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Testimony that Mrs. Mary Lillendahl took blood stained money from the pockets of her dead husband, from whose murder she and William Beach of Vineland are on trial here, presumably to bolster her story that he was killed and robbed by two Negroes, was adduced late today by a chemist, an expert witness in the prosecution.

This, with the charge of other witnesses that road maps found in Mrs.

Lillendahl's automobile were marked in pencil to show the location of the scene of the murder, a lonely bushy tract just off the Atsion road, were the high points in a day when the swift moving trial in the Atlantic county court cleared the way for the famous surprise witnesses for the state who are expected to appear tomorrow.

Accusation Bitterly Fought.

Both accusations were bitterly fought by Mrs. Lillendahl's counsel, Robert H. McCarter, successful defense attorney in that other hippodrome trial, the Hall-Mills murder case, a year ago. When the haggling cross-examination of Dr. Lewis Meyers, Atlantic City chemist, ended, however, it was obvious that the second day of the hearing had weighed heavily in favor of the prosecution.

It was another somber moment in the tiny courtroom, so small that it contained few besides the three score correspondents who are reporting the trial and a rank or two of witnesses, when Prosecutor Hinkle declared that would demand the death penalty for the two defendants.

A score of witnesses took the stand. Through it all, Willis Beach, the chicken dealer, who is called the "aging gallant of the hamlet of Vineland," was impressive. But the black times, as when the bullets which pierced the brain of the elderly physician-lawyer, who was her husband were shown, she shuddered and tears came to her eyes. But when court was cleared she lifted her head, and joined her lawyer, McCarter, in asserting that the defense was untroubled by the events of the session.

Chemist's Blood.

Blood upon three out of four 35 notes stuffed in Mrs. Lillendahl's pocketbook and there found by the matron who cared for her on the day of the murder, was proclaimed by Dr. Meyers, state witness. The state hopes to show that the widow, urged by the need to substantiate the charge that two Negroes killed Dr. Lillendahl and then robbed him, secreted the money in her own pocketbook. Just what might have caused her to keep the money instead of destroying it was not indicated. The chemist's testimony was bitterly attacked by McCarter, first in an effort to impugn the "expertise" of his report, and then to impugn the analysis itself.

Prosecutor Hinkle announced that the "surprise witness" who, he said, should take the stand late tomorrow or Thursday, would close his direct case for the county. One of these is the much heralded Baltimorean to whom, it is rumored, Beach during the days of his disappearance from New Jersey while the state was seeking him, confessed that he shot the physician, aided by Mrs. Lillendahl. But this promise did not emerge

ATTORNEY'S WIFE IS OVERCOME BY GAS IN HER HOME

Mrs. Louise Baker Dodge, 54 years old, 1719 East 55th street, wife of Edward Fairfield Dodge, an attorney, was found unconscious from gas late yesterday in the bathroom of her home.

Lieut. George O'Connor, in charge of squad 5 of the fire department, worked over her for an hour before she was revived. She will recover, it was said. According to the Hyde Park police Mrs. Dodge was found by her colored maid, Miss Jennie Hunter, who smelled gas issuing from under the bathroom door. She summoned a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, and together they broke through the door and summoned help. Police said they were told that Mrs. Dodge recently had been treated in a sanitarium for a nervous ailment. Mr. Dodge is a graduate of Lake Forest university and Northwestern College of Law. He is a member of the Union League club and he heads the hardwood lumber business founded by his father in 1867.

IN any industry, "time out" for break-down of power units is an important consideration. From the headquarters of a big power company comes this tribute to Westinghouse service:

* we expect to get this machine back on the line the first of the month, which will be something of a record, as I do not believe a 20,000 kw. machine was ever completely rewound, as well as the iron re-treated, in 30 days before.

SCHOOLBOY AND FOUR OTHERS DIE OF AUTO INJURIES

County Toll Mounts to 865 Since Jan. 1.

A school boy and four men died yesterday of injuries received in automobile accidents. The fatalities increased the Cook county motor toll to 865 since the first of the year.

Marshall H. Benson, 19 years old, 2950 North Laverne avenue, while returning from school, walked into the street from between two parked automobiles in front of 5010 Irving Park boulevard. He was run over by a motor truck driven by Donald Martin, 1320 North Lockwood avenue, and died at Belmont Avenue hospital. Martin was held for the inquest.

A speeding automobile struck Thomas Brody, 54, of 1928 Diversey boulevard, as he attempted to cross Lincoln avenue at Diversey parkway with two companions last night and threw him fifty feet. He was instantly killed. Brody's friends, who were returning with him from services at St. Bonaventure church, told police the driver did not stop.

Driver Held in Fatal Accident.

Edward Brennan, 52, of 7261 South Park avenue was knocked down and killed in front of 7204 South Park avenue by an automobile operated by August Bapodice, 18, of 6023 South Fairfield avenue. The driver was held.

Michael Lillis, 59, of 7816 South Persimmon street, died of injuries received Saturday night. He was struck by an automobile after alighting from a street car at 17th street and Ashland avenue. The driver did not stop.

Anna Umpleby, 56, of 4628 North Hermitage avenue was fatally injured by a car that struck him at Ravenswood and Montrose avenues. Police held the driver, Nels Lunblad, 4641 North Lincoln street.

Warns Against Crowded Cars.

Chief Deputy Coroner Paul Rothenberg, attending the investigation of a street car-automobile crash Monday night in which one person was killed and twelve were injured, warned motorists against overcrowding their cars in such a way as to interfere with the vision and control of the driver. All thirteen persons in the accident referred to were in one machine. Deputy Coroner J. R. Dorfman continued the inquest pending the outcome of the condition of Mrs. Christine Rosanski, sister of Mrs. Sophie Ryszewski, 6527 South Honore street, who was killed.

Capt. John Tobin of Hyde Park police, investigating the injury of his sister-in-law, Miss Irene Walsh, 26, of 840 Hyde Park boulevard, in an automobile accident, exonerated the driver, Edward Sacerdote, 47, a music teacher.

ROBBERS POSE AS DRY RAIDERS; LOOT CIGAR SHOP

Four gunmen, posing as government officers, yesterday looted the cigar store of Ballint Lasso at 3411 Pennsylvania avenue, Indiana Harbor, Ind., and escaped with $2,000 cash. Although Lasso and several others were in the place when the bandits made their search none protested and the four took their time in collecting their loot. Most of the money was concealed in a table in the rear of the store.

Entering the cigar store, the bandit leader, carrying a gun in one hand and a piece of paper which he said was a warrant in the other, said they were government agents and were going to search the place for liquor. They showed their badges. For more than ten minutes they ransacked drawers without molestation. Lasso and his friends even were silent when the bandits found the cash in the table. The quartet left through a rear cellar door and escaped in an automobile.

ALGERIAN FLOOD DAMAGE IS SET AT $20,000,000

PARIS, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Every new report from Algeria reveals that the floods believed to have taken 500 lives over the week-end were much worse than were supposed at first. Steady rains continued today to menace the devastated province of Oran.

The efforts of two generations have been wiped out," Albert Sarraut, minister of the interior, said today after receiving more complete reports of the situation. He estimated material damage at $20,000,000, mostly at Perregaux, Mostaganem, and Tene. Many small villages, however, have been washed away entirely.

The first shock of 25,000,000 cubic yards of water piled up above the Perregaux dam broke it and wiped out nearby railway shops, carrying giant locomotives a distance of 500 yards.

Poor old PLATO—lived 2,200 years too soon!

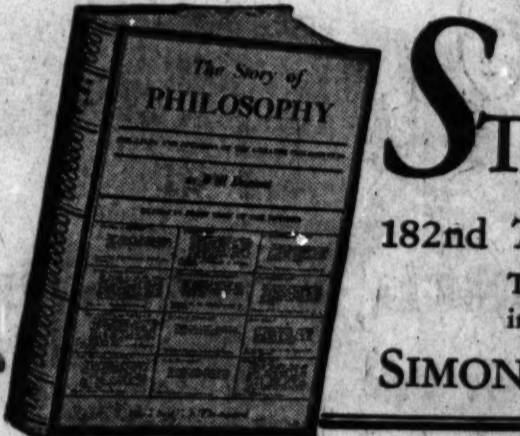

Here was a man who wrote of communism, socialism, feminism, vegetarianism, birth-control, eugenics, and psycho-analysis—yet he lived three hundred years before Christ.

THIS man was so advanced in his ideas, so ultra-modern in his conceptions of how mankind should live, that he is radical for even this day and age. It seems absolutely incredible that he should have lived and written 300 years before Christ.

The world of Plato's time was not quite ready for his advanced ideas and none of them bore fruit, nor were they to bear fruit for many centuries. He was regarded as a visionary rather than as a prophet. Poor old Plato lived before his time—over 2,200 years too soon.

The fascinating story of Plato's life and philosophies, his reforms and Utopian plans, is but one of the many tales by which Will Durant, in "The Story of Philosophy," illuminates and humanizes the philosophers, be their ideas abstruse or as clear as a mountain stream.

This story of the human being as a thinker through the ages has proven a subject of vast and absorbing interest for the American public. That materialistic Americans, as we had been wont to consider ourselves, should find any interest, much less delight, in a book on philosophy, was something undreamed of by most people.

Selling Faster Than Fiction

Yet the undreamed of happened, and today, after being in the bookstores for over eighteen months, "The Story of Philosophy" continues to stand first on the list of best sellers all over the country.

It is scarcely believable, the astounding record of this book, of which over 182,000 copies have been sold. The American people have paid $910,000 to read it. But, as John Haynes Holmes says: "We don't wonder people are buying 'The Story of Philosophy' faster than the publishers can print it. For sheer living interest it beats any novel we have read in a decade." It is now in its 23rd large printing, an edition which is larger than the first, second, third and fourth editions combined. It has required two printing plants and two binderies, in Binghamton, New York, and in New York City, working in extra shifts, night and day, to turn out sufficient books to keep up with the demand of book-sellers and book-buyers.

PLEA FOR MAYOR IN TRIAL OF CITY FEE SUIT TODAY

Two Months' Argument for Faherty Ends.

Arguments in behalf of the defendant, Mayor Thompson and George F. Harding, will begin this morning before Circuit Judge Hugo Friend in the Thompson's suit to recover $1,732,000 for the taxpayers from fees paid real estate experts during Thompson's former administration in 1920 and 1921.

Yesterday, Attorney George W. Miller ended his two months' argument in behalf of defendant Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements during the former as well as the present Thompson regime.

Denies Conspiracy Charge.
Attorney Miller denied the Thompson's charge that there was a conspiracy to mulct the city treasury for the benefit of the Thompson-London political machine through exorbitant fees to real estate experts. He pictured Mr. Faherty as a public spirited citizen, holding office at a personal financial loss for the development of a greater Chicago.

The first speaker for Mayor Thompson and Mr. Harding will be Attorney George Lennon. He told the court he expected to finish this week.

The trial, one of the longest on record in Cook county, will not end before Feb. 1, it is estimated. The trial started March 2, 1926, and arguments were begun May 3, 1927. Mr. Lennon will be followed by Attorney William C. Graves, co-counsel for Mayor Thompson and Mr. Harding. Attorney Chester Cleveland will then argue for Percy B. Coffin, one of the experts, who is now public administrator.

Heads to Close for Defense.
The last defense attorney to speak will be Daniel M. Healy, representing Arnold Brautigan and Frank Koch, former experts named defendants. After the defense closes, Attorney Howard Ellis will argue the law in the plaintiff's case, and Attorney Wymouth Kirkland will argue the facts from the evidence presented.

It is said Dr. Borromeo added privately that if the cardinal continues to refuse food, his death may occur at any moment.

NEW YORK TO SWEDEN TELEPHONE CALL SETS NEW DISTANCE RECORD

New York, Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Two new records in carrying the human voice over vast distances on a commercial basis were established today when conversations took place between New York and Stockholm, Sweden, and between Mexico City and Montreal, Canada. In the first instance radio, land wires, and cables were used; the second link was exclusively by land wires, linked up over one of the longest circuits of its kind in the world.

Details of the New York to Sweden call were disclosed by the American Swedish News exchange, whose general director, Herman Rydin, took part in it. The call was made at 10 a. m. at this end by Count Adolf Hamilton, Sweden's chief delegate to the international radio conference in Washington, from the telephone laboratories in the American Telephone and Telegraph building.

More formal ceremonies inaugurated the commercial service between Mexico City and Montreal. Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, exchanged greetings with D. D. Evans, manager of the bank, who is now in Mexico City.

CHINA OPPOSES LOAN TO JAPAN BY J. P. MORGAN

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PEKING, Nov. 29.—Gen. Yang Xing, chief of staff and Manchurian administrator for Generalissimo Chang Tso-lin, told the American newspaper correspondents here today that China is absolutely opposed to the proposed loan by J. P. Morgan & Co. to Japan for Manchurian development.

"We are through with the Japanese in Manchuria," said Gen. Yang, at the behest of his chief. "It is regrettable that America has so much confidence in Japan, for even should Japan get American money it cannot build the railways without China's consent. The American bankers will make a mistake if they issue such a loan and I urge direct American dealing with China."

"The whole Manchurian question is interwoven with Japanese politics, since if the Manchurian railway borrows from America, the railway can loan money to Japanese interests for political purposes. China opposes this diversion and is confident that Japan has no real definite railway plan for Manchuria other than the Kirin-Corean link."

His interest in the theater developed after he built the old Castle Square theater in Boston, but his first venture in theatricals was at the American theater in New York in 1900.

PARENTS NURSING HEADS CRACKED IN SCHOOL RIOT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 29.—(Special)—Orim determination was apparent on bruised chins today while prominent residents of Cudahy applied ammonia to cracked heads following a "peace" meeting in the southern suburb last night, at which was attempted a settlement of the controversy arising out of the summary dismissal of Supt. of Schools Edward C. Seifert.

Both sides were claiming a "moral" victory, and the only losers appeared to be the more than 300 students of the high school and upper grades who returned after a ten days' strike, when their parents promised an amicable agreement would be reported.

The old folks' entry into the melee precipitated a riot at the Washington school last night when 800 taxpayers met at the call of John Schrank, clerk of the school board.

School board officials tried to assume control of the meeting. A resolution by the board was read and declared adopted while scores of parents were hurling furniture and epithets in a fight to retain control of the meeting. School board opponents declared the resolution was "railroaded." The matter is still in status quo.

MEMORY LOST IN WAR, HE LIVES IN NAME OF SLAIN

Soldier Hears Own Tongue and Finds Who He Is.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 29.—The strange story of a Swedish soldier named Duner, who lost his memory when wounded while fighting under the British flag and collected a pension under another man's name for ten years is related by the Swedish press.

Duner was reported killed after the blowing up of a mine a decade ago. Actually he was wounded and lost his memory. A mistake in identity at a hospital caused the Swedish volunteer to be discharged under the name of one De Montalt, a Canadian.

Recently Duner's memory returned, realizing his Swedish nationality, he came to Stockholm, where he broadened his story. He got in contact with his mother, widow of a Swedish professor, and she filled in details that he had been unable to recall.

A Soldier of Fortune.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—(P)—A second installment of the curious case, Gustaf Duner was born in 1880, the son of a professor of Upsala university. He always was fond of military life and obtained a commission in the Swedish army. He resigned to go to South Africa at the outbreak of the Boer war, where he fought in the British army, earning a commission. As there was no prospect of more fighting there, he started on a variable warrior's tour of Europe, fighting wherever his services were accepted.

Officer in British Army.

At the outbreak of the world war he found himself again a commissioned officer in the British army. Just before New Year's, 1917, happened the adventure which began his decade of mystery. He was sitting in a dugout, when a warning of an imminent explosion came.

He snatched a coat, supposing it was his, and threw himself on the ground, but was lifted high by the explosion. He remembered nothing more, and found himself in a hospital with his memory a total blank. But the doctors and nurses addressed him as "Capt. De Montalt," that being the name on a letter in the pocket of the coat, which he had seized, instead of his own. The real De Montalt was known to peace.

A few months later he again was taking on a tour of duty, in the British army. A crash while flying ended his fighting career, and he was invalided out, receiving a one hundred per cent disability pension.

During a romantic marriage he lived in London until recently, when his memory returned by accidentally hearing the Swedish language spoken and feeling that he could understand it.

PRIVY COUNCIL HEARS APPEAL OF QUEBEC'S JEWS

Fight Exclusion from School Board.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—[Jewish Telegraph agency.]—The Jewish school question in Quebec, long a matter of dispute between the Jewish community and the Protestant board of school commissioners, was taken up today by the judicial committee of the privy council. The committee, consisting of the lord chancellor, Viscount Cave; Viscount Haldane, Lord Buckmaster, Lord Darling and Lord Warrington, considered the case on appeal.

Sir John Simon, representing the appellants, said the appeal was a matter to which were attached both difficulty and gravity, the first difficulty being what was actually meant by denominational schools, the second as to who possesses the right to denominational schools, whether the Jewish children of Montreal are entitled to go to the public schools and whether the Jewish citizens, important to the community, are eligible to serve on the school board.

Sir John submitted that the Jewish immigrants should be assimilated into citizenship. He contended that denominational schools are not identical with non-Catholic schools.

Asked by Lord Darling whether Jews were in this sense Protestants, Sir John replied: "Yes."

Describing the educational position in Quebec, Sir John asserted that the appellants submitted to the privy council that the Canadian courts had not understood properly the situation regarding the British North American immigrants in Canada must be assimilated.

JEWS BARRED FROM BOARD.

The appeal was against a decision of the Supreme court of Canada, upholding the Quebec Court of Appeals in its ruling that persons of Jewish faith could not be appointed to the board of Protestant school commissioners, that the board was not obliged to appoint Jewish teachers in its schools, and that the Quebec provincial legislature could not pass legislation providing that persons professing the Jewish religion be appointed to the board.

THREE STUDENTS, LEADERS AT N. U., UPHOLD R. O. T. C.

Three Northwestern university students, leaders in campus affairs, yesterday signed an article appearing in the Daily Northwestern and upholding the work of the R. O. T. C. unit. They are Vic Gustafson, captain of the 1927 football team; F. E. Church, representing the university publications, and R. E. Day, representing the Purple Keys.

Their article was written as an answer to a previous communication to the same publication. The signers of the first, Eugene R. Vest, Robert S. Ream and Joe L. Norris, asserted that the R. O. T. C. was doing nothing to justify its existence and added that "if we are prepared for war we will certainly get it."

Gustafson, Church and Day, none of whom is a member of the military unit, declared that the unit justified its existence by preparing men to meet the problems of civil life as well as by training them for the battlefield.

TROYANS HIT TOUCHBACK DECISION

OFFICIAL SAYS BALL NOT UNDER RILEY'S CONTROL3,000 Fans Cheer Beaten Team.

John C. Schommer, umpire in the Notre Dame-Southern California football game played last Saturday on Soldiers' field, issued a written statement last night in which he explained in full his ruling on the disputed play in the third quarter of the game.

Mr. Schommer, former U. of C. player and coach and now a professor of chemistry at Armour institute, called the play a touchback, refusing to grant the claim of Capt. Morley Drury of the Trojans that it was a safety.

Mr. Schommer points out that his ruling hinged on the decision of Field Judge Griffith that Quarter Back Riley of Notre Dame did not have possession of the intercepted pass when he was tackled by Trojan players.

Yesterday, Capt. Drury, addressing a meeting of students and Southern California partisans, said that his team had been robbed of victory. Coach Howard Jones also told the California audience that as he saw the play it should have been called a safety.

Schommer Makes Statement.

It was in reply to these charges that Mr. Schommer issued his written statement.

"I have not made an extended explanation before," he said, "because I did not deem it necessary. Now that the Southern California team has seen fit to make these charges I am glad to give a full version of what occurred."

Mr. Schommer's statement follows:

"Riley intercepted the pass in question, reversing in the air, and was facing Notre Dame's goal when he landed on his feet. He took two or three steps toward his own goal and was then struck by California tacklers on about the 4 yard line. The ball shot forward, struck between the goal line and end line, then rolled across the end line."

"Then a California player fell on the ball. California players yelled 'Touchdown, touchdown!' This I quickly explained, under the rules, couldn't possibly be. One or more California players were then crying 'Safety!' because, as explained, Riley was tackled in the end zone, and, therefore, because of governing rules, a safety was scored. This I quickly overruled because I was absolutely sure that Riley was tackled on approximately the 3 or 4 yard line. I walked over and marked the approximate spot of the tackle with my foot."

"Then I exclaimed, the play was either a safety or a touch back depending on possession and control of the ball by the receiver after the pass, and further said, therefore, the ball was to be ruled a safety on the 20 yard line in either case."

Could Not See Ball.

"Then I called the captains and Griffith, the field judge, for agreement on the facts. Three of us agreed on the facts. The Notre Dame captain dissenting. This dissension I overruled."

"When Riley caught the ball he was facing his goal. His back was all I could see and not the ball. The ball was lost to my sight. I was back of him probably 15 yards."

"Clearly," I exclaimed, "if Notre Dame had control and possession of the ball Riley then gave the impetus that sent the oval across the end line and it is therefore a safety." And further, I said, if Riley did not have possession and control, then the play must be ruled as an incomplete pass to the goal line, and, therefore, under the rules, the play was a touchback."

The disappearance of the ball from sight allowed me but guesswork as to possession and control. There was only one official who could truly rule, and that was the field judge who was facing the play. He gave his decision with courage and promptness, declaring 'not possession and control.' Therefore I ruled a touchback."

Trojans Hit Decision

BY GEORGE SHAFER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 29.—Capt. Morley Drury of the Southern California football team told 3,000 rabid fans at a welcome mass meeting that "the team traveled a long distance to be robbed of victory" in last Saturday's Notre Dame game.

Drury and tonight that "robbed of victory" did not mean robbed of victory by the officials. What he meant was a bad break robbed his team of victory.

Drury was the main speaker at a campus mass meeting which greeted the Trojan athletes on their return from the 7 to 6 game in Chicago.

The Trojans received a wild ovation. Drury's words, however, were a note for the season. All the Trojan players who figured in the disputed play in which Riley of Notre Dame is alleged to have fumbled an intercepted pass on his goal line, were called to a rostrum to give their version of the occurrence.

Drury Takes Rostrum.

Townpeople found the U. S. C. campus the same magnet during the football rally, that alumni, students and instructors did. After Drury's speech, Coach Howard Jones gave his own opinion of the ruling which denied the Trojans a safety, and made it Notre Dame's ball on a touchback in the third period of last Saturday's game.

BRIDGE EXPERTS
OPEN TITLE PLAY
HERE TOMORROWOver One Thousand Will Compete.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

With none of the ballyhoo which usually marks national championships, preparations to decide the premier pair and four man team of the six million auction bridge players in the United States are completed, and at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman, 1,000 or more experts in informative doubles, finesse, no trump, and short suit bids will sit down at 250 tables to begin the battle of hearts, diamonds, clubs, and spades that will conclude with a battle royal between two four man teams Saturday night.

Most of the nationally known stars of society's leading indoor sport—Work, Whitehead, Foster, the Culbertsons, and others—will be in the competition, though Milton C. Work can't get here in time to play, but only to lecture. The prizes are the honors and $15,000 worth of gold and silver cups, medals, and other trophies, but there are no cash prizes.

Is First Tournament.

The tournament will be the first of the American Auction Bridge league and the play will be in six divisions. The bridge league is limited to men with women rated as associate members, so there will be separate tournaments of pairs and four man teams in both men's and women's sections. In addition there are two contests open to the public, one progressive duplicate auction and the other progressive straight auction. Entry fees are $1.50 for each session.

In the duplicate divisions, which include all save the open straight auction contest, the cards will be dealt only once for each thirteen tables, the hands being returned to racks and passed on to the next table, so by playing the same cards pairs' scores will represent their skill at playing and not the luck of the run of the cards.

Winds Up Saturday.

Play will begin in the pair championship, associate members (women) open straight auction, open duplicate, and open straight auction, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Tomorrow evening the pair championship of the associate members will be decided, the pair championship play and the two open contests will continue. At the third session at 8 o'clock Friday afternoon the championship play will continue, as well as the open contests, which run all through the tournament, and the winners of the pair championship will be decided on total points of the four sessions Friday night.

The two teams of four who have the best aggregate scores in the prior play will begin their battle for the team championship, most coveted of honors, at 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon with the final contest at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. Each session will last two to two and one-half hours.

New York's Inexpert Experts Relay Mark Out-expert Wise Men of Grid Is Bettered in Swim Prelims

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Nov. 29.—The profession of experting on football games has suffered a serious humiliation at the hands of the public within the last week and the illusion that the noncollegiate public is uniformly eager to see the big games has been somewhat marred.

A New York newspaper which shall not be named, as it is named the Daily News, conducted a successful but unintentional campaign to make suckers of the football experts on their own home grounds, the sport page. This journal decided to get up a guess board or, at best, consoling themselves with the tasteless substitute of professional football merely because they had not been fortunate enough to become learned alumni of such famous schools as Yale, Princeton, and the Military and Naval academies.

Well, during the week preceding Saturday, Nov. 25, the interest in the clean collegiate sport was so pronounced that 20,000 eager guessers sent in letters containing their respective guesses as to the winners of the 15 big games of the week-end. Now, one of the most imposing rites in the mysterious art of the football expert is the selection of the probable winners of the ensuing Saturday's football games for publication under his signature.

I do not know whether this is a failing of football experts in other cities or not, but here in New York this work is taken with the utmost seriousness and if an expert happens to predict ten out of fourteen results correctly it is deemed fitting and not inmodest if he shall call attention to the fact and toss a few sprigs of flowers at himself in Monday's paper.

3,500 Guesses Correctly.

But on the Monday after the Saturday of the Harvard-Yale game the weary tabulators of the guesses in the newspaper office reported findings that were disturbing to the dignity of all professional experts. They reported that 1,600 lay or inexperienced experts, who presumably knew nothing whatever about the inner mysteries of triple threats and stone wall defenses, had guessed 12 out of 15 results correctly. There were so many who were 90 per cent correct, that the newspaper had to ask to be excused from printing their names.

Then it was discovered that 15 members of the public guessed 14 out of 15 results and finally it was announced that one modest genius had guessed the outcome of all fifteen games, even including two ties. This was the Big Casino of the game of experting.

The miracle expert was revealed as Mr. Sam Pollock, a bricklayer by trade, with no university affiliations to inspire or guide him. He was just a natural expert with tremendous love for the game and a vast desire to sit in at the Polo grounds among the generals and watch the stirring play and pagantry of the Army-Navy game last Saturday.

Studies Art of Pointing.

So they published his picture in the paper, showing him in a typical experting pose, chewing a pencil and finally they gave him two of the best tickets or coveted pastebords priced at $15 each with their blessing and best wishes for a good time.

But when two customers entered the field box next to Gen. Summerall's box last Saturday afternoon and took even seats assigned to Sam Pollock, the photographer who was instructed to take a typical picture of the triumphant expert watching the game exclaimed: "Why, neither of you gentlemen looks like Mr. Pollock, the miracle expert."

"Of course not," one of the customers explained. "This gentleman here is Mr. Shapiro and I am Mr. Guinberg."

"But," the photographer persisted, suspecting some error, "you are sitting in the seats assigned to Mr. Pollock, the bricklayer with the collegiate spirit."

"Yes," said Mr. Guinberg, "that is right. We had fine luck. Mr. Pollock sold us his tickets for $70 and he is going to spend a week at the six day jive raps instead. He doesn't understand football, anyway."

CUB BOSS SEEKS INFILDER TO REPLACE ADAMSCuyler Will Report Here Saturday.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Having beaten half the 'National league to the wire in the free for all scramble for Hansen Kuyler's services, William Veck, president of the Cubs, returned home yesterday to receive a long way to 'get robbed.' And that doesn't sound reasonable or sportsmanlike.

Drury is quoted as telling the home folks in Los Angeles that the Southern California football team was long way to 'get robbed.' And that doesn't sound reasonable or sportsmanlike.

Drury, of course, may have been tipped off by the hysteria of the crowd that welcomed the beaten Trojans home. The crowd's attitude, in turn, may be blamed on newspaper reports by California writers.

The visiting experts probably never agreed before on anything, and may never agree again. But they certainly were unanimous in closing their eyes Saturday to both views of the play in dispute.

Before placing too much credence on these admittedly one-sided reports, it might be interesting to Californians to learn just how close the line it was for their experts to have observed the play accurately.

All of them, I take it, were in the press boxes at Soldiers' field. None of them was on the field. All of them were sitting around the 40 yard line at the top of the stadium.

The play was made in the third quarter and the light was none too good. Irving Vaughan, who wrote a detailed story of the game for The Tribune, was in the press box. He says the visibility through the grimy windows was so low, and the action took place so quickly, that he wasn't even sure whether a California or a Notre Dame man recovered the ball that spurted out of Riley's arms. Irv doubts if any one else could, either.

Balanced Mr. Vaughan's frank statement against the reports of the California writers, who claim they saw the play distinctly, and draw your own conclusion.

Californians also might find reason to doubt the good sense of the ballplayers and the charges of "stolen game" in the statement made by John Schommer, umpire.

Doesn't it seem rather far fetched to believe that a ball, tossed sportingly in a press stand in the center of the field atop the stadium, could see the play more distinctly than Schommer or Griffith, the field judge, could?

Another point might interest the excited California fans. A survey of ten reports of the play published in as many newspapers shows that no two of the writers agree on just what happened. The New York Times reporter said:

"The pass was almost intercepted by a Notre Dame player, but was grounded over the goal line." Another New York writer thought Riley intercepted the pass over the goal line and fumbled it there. A writer for a paper in the northwest was sure that Riley caught the ball five yards in front of the goal line.

Three experts and none of them seeing the play the same.

Undoubtedly there were thousands in the stadium last Saturday who thought Riley had the ball in his possession and that when he lost the ball he had fumbled and Southern California should have been credited with a safety.

Undoubtedly there were just as many thousands who thought Riley hadn't got control of the ball.

And undoubtedly there were thousands more who didn't—and couldn't—see what happened at all.

After all, wasn't it a question of oversight and don't the odds favor Umpire Schommer?

I think they do.

Some time the rules may be changed leaving less to the officials' judgment. Until they are the officials cannot do less than call the plays as they see them.

Two other National league clubs also were hot on Dreyfus' trail with bids for the star outfielder who couldn't agree with the management. The Boston Braves tried to dangle Dreyfus with Eddie Farrell, the ex-Penn player, who was shipped to Boston by the Giants last season. Brooklyn had a standing offer of Jess Petty, the veteran southpaw, and one other, but Dreyfus wanted an infielder and not a hurler.

SPEAKING OF

BY DON MAXWELL.

Morley Drury convinced 117,000 folk Saturday that he is quite a football player.

If he continues making speeches he may convince a lot more that his judgment off the gridiron isn't as good as his judgment on.

WINGS GEARED TO DEFEAT LES-CANADIENS

Hockey Rivals Battle at Coliseum Tonight.

Hockey Scores

At Madison Square Garden, N. Y. Nov. 29.—(Special.)

BY FRANK SCHRIEBER.
The Hawks' hockey team will battle the Canadiens tonight in a National league hockey match at the Coliseum. Irvin has been on the Hawks' hospital list for the last ten days and his absence was a big handicap to the Canadiens.

Irvin is one of the steady players in hockey. Year after year the silver haired veteran has been among the sport's goal getters and it was his last season that boosted the Hawks into the playoff series for the title. Irvin has been playing for more than 15 years and he is the "Silver Fox" because of his ready play. During the 1925-26 season he finished only one point behind the top scorer, but he had more assists than any other player in the league.

Strongest Lineup Available.
With Irvin back on the ice, Manager Stanley will start his old command of Mickey McKay at center and Earl Browne and Irvin on the wings. This was the forward line that started the season for the Hawks and held Boston, one of the best teams in the league, to a tie in the opening game and defeated the Montreal Maroons two nights later in the second match of the season.

Joe Trapp and Cyclone Wentworth will play the defense positions with Taylor and Teddy Graham as all-arounders. While Chuck Gardner will be playing the goal net. Alternates for the forward line are Rabbit McVeigh, Eddie Fraser, Corbett Denny and Eddie Madison. McVeigh also was a member of the hospital squad for a few days but has returned to condition.

Canadiens Strong Team.
The Canadiens, known throughout the league as the Flying Frenchmen, have a strong outfit. George Hainsworth, goal keeper, Aurel Joliat, and Eddie Hemon, forwards, and Herb Gardner, a defense man, are among the best players in the league.

Gardner, one of those 35 year old players common to hockey, just won the J. A. Hart trophy, an award made annually to the player judged to have been of most value to his team during the season. The selection is made each year by a committee of newspaper men.

Hainsworth has ranked as one of the best goalies in the game for the last three seasons while the prowess of Joliat and Hemon on the forward line is known to every hockey fan.

Thistlethwaite to Recommend Rule Changes

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite of Wisconsin will urge western conference coaches to recommend several changes in the football rules committee when the Big Ten strategists hold their annual meeting in Chicago, Friday and Saturday.

Such recommendations will be made through the National Association of College Coaches, which will meet in New York shortly after Christmas.

Changes proposed by Thistlethwaite include the point after touchdown, which would give a team three points for a touchdown.

The purpose of moving the goal line ten yards behind the goal line was to encourage the use of the pass and running plays to score the point. Coaches, however, still consider the kick the best gamble, as they proved during the season just ended.

Thistlethwaite said tonight that the league should encourage kicking by bringing the goal posts back to their original position, thereby making the field goal a constant threat.

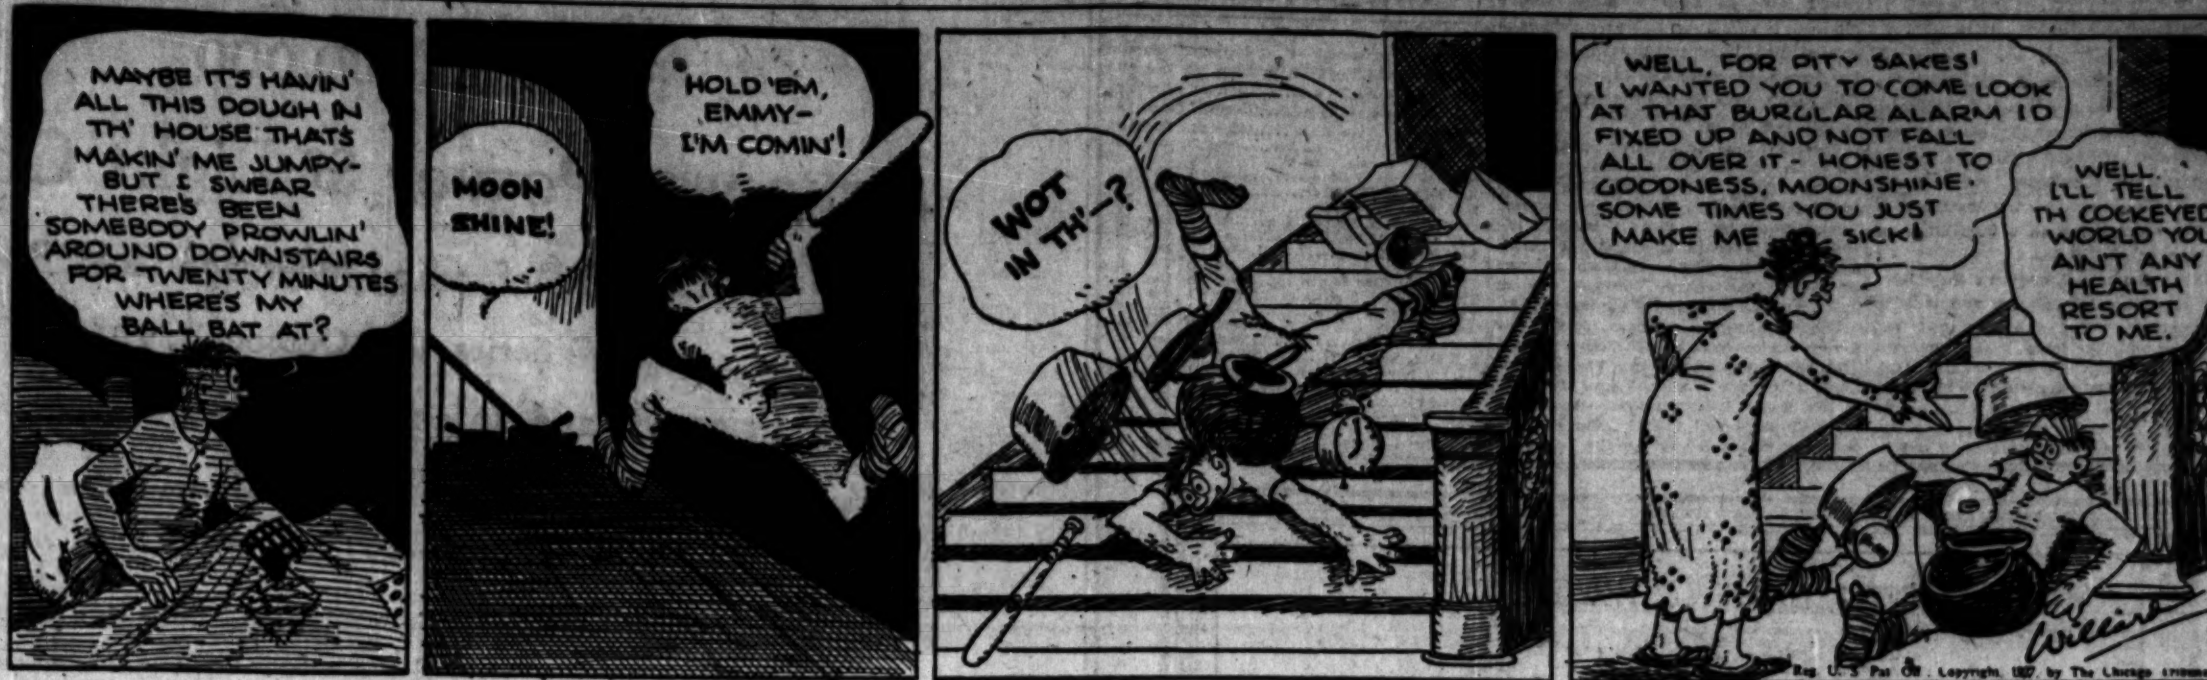

He has favored abolishing the point after touchdown for many years because it makes possible for an inferior team to defeat a good team by a single point by taking advantage of the breaks to score a touchdown by kicking goal.

Amateur Boxing Show Bouts End in Knockouts
Three of the ten amateur bouts ended last night at the North Side gymnasium terminated in knockouts.

Clarence knocked out Clarence in the second round at 135 pounds in the windup. Eric Adrian stopped George Jessie in three rounds while George Darcy sent Frank Brown down in the first round.

Baseball Scribes Elect Officers at Annual Meet
The Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America yesterday held its annual meeting and elected Harry Kelly, sports writer and former Indian fighter, as local representative. James Crummett was elected as vice representative to direct the affairs of the chapter during the year.

MOON MULLINS—AT LAST MOON FALLS FOR EMMY

REJOINS TEAM

Capt. Dick Irvin, out of Blackhawks' lineup for ten days from injuries, will face the Canadiens of Montreal tonight.

500 DOGS WILL BE BENCHED AT CHICAGO SHOW

Five hundred shepherd dogs will be exhibited in the International Shepherd Dog show which will be held Saturday and Sunday in the 1228th regiment armory, 234 East Chicago avenue. It will be the first international dog show ever held in this country outside of New York City.

Eighty dogs from kennels in and about Chicago have been entered. Among the out of town exhibitors is E. F. Dolen of Detroit, who will bring his police dog, which has earned a degree in the dog training school of the Berlin police department.

Proceeds will go to the Chicago Boys' Welfare club at 1725 Orchard street.

Mt. Carmel and Schurz Groom Aerial Plays

Unless dope figures are all wrong, or the nice fall weather suddenly changes into a mid-winter blizzard, Saturday's city title football game between Schurz and Mount Carmel promises to be one of the best prep games of the lengthy season.

Added to this will be the incentive of a large crowd—perhaps 50,000—which it is predicted will see the game. Tickets, distributed to the city high schools and parochial schools, are being sold in surprisingly large quantities, while the older folk, now that the college teams have folded their gridiron regimentals for the season, are turning to the game for one last sight of the battle along the scrimmage line. The proceeds of the game will aid materially the charitable work of all of Chicago's newspapers at the approaching Christmas season, for the receipts will be divided between these various funds.

Mt. Carmel Is Undeatable.

Undeatable this season, with only two points scored against it, Mount Carmel rosters can see nothing except a victory for the Catholic league champions. Coach Tom Reardon's eleven has all the abilities a well-balanced team needs. It has back field strength, excellent line defense, a menacing forward pass attack, and a reliable kicker. Schurz has these same qualities of play and only Saturday's game will give the correct answer of superiority.

While Capt. Mel Brosseau has been mentioned in the public print, little has been told of Mount Carmel's passing attack. That it is efficient is proven by the last league game of the champions, the game with St. Rita. Mount Carmel won, 19 to 0 and two of the three touchdowns were scored on passes.

Schurz to Use Passes.

The first score was made by a pass from Brosseau to Dougherty, left end, the pass and run netting 46 yards. The second touchdown resulted from a 35 yard pass and run by Bud Borrelli, full back, the ball being thrown by Quarterback Spanier. Brosseau scored the final touchdown on a 45 yard return of a St. Rita punt.

Tunney to Attend Banquet Here to Raise Xmas Funds

Plans were announced yesterday for a banquet at the Hotel Sherman to raise money for the various newspaper and other charitable Christmas funds, to be held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 13.

According to a statement issued from the office of Anton Cermak, president of the Cook county board and chairman of the all-Chicago Christmas fund committee, the guests of honor will be Mayor William Hale Thompson, George F. Getz, promoter of the Tunney-Dempsey fight; Champion Gene Tunney, and members of the South Park board, and the Illinois boxing commission.

The purpose of the banquet other than the raising of Christmas funds, will be to pay honor to the men responsible for bringing the record Tunney-Dempsey crowd to Chicago last September.

Bruins Play Cleveland Pro Five Tonight

Pro Basketball

Philadelphia, 37; New York Celtics, 35. Fort Wayne, 43; Detroit, 18.

Cleveland's Rosenblooms pro basketball team will open Chicago's American league season tonight against the Bruins at the Broadway armory in the first of a two game series.

Vic Hanson of Syracuse university is making his debut in pro basketball with the Cleveland team, and with four members of last year's quintet, which was runnerup to the champion New York Celtics, will engage the Bruins tonight.

Red Barek and Homer Stonebraker will be the Bruins' forwards tonight, with Mark Harper at center and Sullivan and Manager Russell at the guard positions. Sullivan is the new member of the team. Ike Mahoney and Jack Tierney are the reserves.

Umpire Tells of Touchback in N. D. Game

Jones' comment was more restrained than Drury's.

"Fellow students," said Drury, "when we left here last week for Chicago I told you that we expected to bring home the bacon. I am compelled to come back and stand before you empty handed."

"All of us, from the coach to the last sub, feel very badly about our defeat. But we shall go into the game against University of Washington Saturday with undaunted determination to win."

Drury seemed about to stop his talk when he burst out with: "After all is said and done, we feel that we traveled a long distance to be robbed of a victory."

Coach Jones said: "Notre Dame has a fine football team. It played a great game last Saturday. But it is no finer team, nor played any better than Southern California last Saturday. They happened to come out on the long end of the score. That's the end of that. Our boys were good sports and took things like men and sportsmen, even if they had heavy hearts."

After the football rally Coach Jones demonstrated for the U. S. C. faculty his version of the disputed Riley play on which Umpire John Schommer ruled adversely to Drury's claim of a safety.

In a short statement which he dictated Coach Jones said: "Quote me direct on this. Here is the way the play appeared to me: Riley intercepted the pass. He ran three or four steps with it. Then he was tackled by our men. One of our men fell on the

Alekhine, Young Russian, Is New Chess Champion

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Buenos Aires, Nov. 29.—Dr. Alexander Alekhine, youthful Russian, won the international chess championship here today following the resignation of Prof. Jose R. Capablanca, titleholder, as they were about to resume play in the thirty-fourth game. The score was 5 to 3 in favor of Alekhine up to last night's play, when the thirty-fourth game was adjourned. Prof. Capablanca's resignation automatically gave Alekhine the necessary game to claim the title.

The world's championship chess tournament just concluded in Buenos Aires began Sept. 15.

Jose Capablanca won the title and a $20,000 purse in 1921 in a match with Dr. Emanuel Lasker of Germany at Havana.

Capablanca and Alekhine have been matched in open tournaments a number of times. Last spring the Cuban won first place and the Russian second place in the New York chess masters' tourney.

Behind the goal line and out of bounds for a safety. That was the play as I saw it. The safety, if allowed, would have given Southern California two points and won us the game, 8 to 7.

"There were many in the stands who saw the play the same way. I personally talked with some of these spectators after the game, who did not have a shadow of a doubt about the play. But maybe I should not say this. I want every one to get this straight and understand this. This is no alibi. The game is over. I make no alibi for what goes down as a defeat."

SAGUERO-BURNS WINNER TO MEET BERLENBACH

The winner of the ten round bout between Rolaux Saguro, the Cuban, and Chuck Burns of Texas at the Coliseum tomorrow night will be matched with Paul Berlenbach. Promoter Mullen made this announcement yesterday after receiving Berlenbach's signed agreement to meet the winner of tomorrow night's fight. This bout will be held on Dec. 9, according to present plans.

Saguro and Burns finished boxing preparations yesterday. They each worked six rounds with their sparring mates and both came through the final drills in excellent shape. Saguro is a 7 to 5 choice.

Burns, who never has been knocked off his feet, has dropped Young Stripling, Bob Lawson, George Courtney, Babe McGurgary, Billy Vidaback and Tommy Freeman. Courtney is the choice of the New York Boxing commission to meet Mickey Walker for the world's middleweight championship.

Both fighters will engage in light gymnasium workouts this afternoon, but neither will box.

Henry Leonard of South Chicago and Harry Fones of Columbus, O., will meet in the windup of Fred Irvin's show at America hall, 31st street and Cottage Grove avenue, on Dec. 7. Four other fights will complete the card.

WHEAT AND CORN BOTH DECLINE AS SELLING APPEARS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Reduction in the local short interest as the result of the sharp decline on Monday left the grain markets in a weaker position yesterday and less able to withstand an increase in selling pressure. A sharp break in Liverpool and Winnipeg wheat futures led to a loss of 10¢ in the Chicago market. The close was at net losses of 10¢, with December $1.27 1/2, 1.27 1/2, and May $1.33 1/2, 1.33 1/2. Corn showed stubborn resistance to pressure, but lost 1/2¢, with December 84 1/2¢ and May 85 1/2¢. Oats were 1/2¢ higher and 1/2¢ lower. Liverpool wheat was off 1/2¢, with December leading, as the result of prospects of liberal deliveries on future contracts and on a decline of 1/2¢ in offerings from Argentina in the face of rains in the territory where harvesting is under way. The local element were on the selling side, with some pressure from commission houses, a break of 1/2¢ in Winnipeg having some effect on sentiment, which was somewhat less bullish than of late. Minneapolis was off 1/2¢.

Forecast for colder weather over the belt, with prospects of it clearing up later in the week, led to a belief that a larger movement of grain to terminal markets would be witnessed in the near future, although several leading houses operating extensively in Illinois reported that the amount of corn bought from the producer so far was probably the smallest known. Buenos Aires closed 1/2¢ lower, with December 79 1/2¢, while Rosario was unchanged at 1/2¢ lower, with December 79 1/2¢. Oats came in for more attention, trade broadening considerably, with cash interest buying December and selling May at 1/2¢ difference. Rye showed relatively more strength than wheat, although prices averaged lower than that grain.

If Your Bonds Show a Profit

Ask for this folder

There are four classes of bonds that shrewd investors, under present conditions will sell. They are:

- 1 Bonds selling at or near their redemption price.
 - 2 Bonds that have been called, have matured, or are about to mature.
 - 3 Speculative bonds that have enjoyed a good advance.
 - 4 Bonds that, because of a low coupon rate, or have advanced in price, now yield a low return.
- If you have bonds in these groups, we would like to have you read our "Increase Your Income" folder; it tells why such bonds should be replaced, and gives lists of specific issues.

HEINEMANN First Mortgages and Bonds bear this high rate. Considering the unusual margin of security, they are, by far, Chicago's best Real Estate Securities. HEINEMANN issues are never in large amounts, $50,000 to $100,000, so that the value is much more easily ascertained; and again, they are in scattered city-wide locations. The homey maxim "don't put all your eggs in one basket," is well observed.

INDUSTRY STILL HAS ATTRACTION FOR INVESTORS

BY HARPER LEECH.

Smaller aggregates of profit in many industries, smaller profit margins in many other industries which have greater aggregates, are generally accepted now as one of the reasons for our large volume of business and an augury of better business ahead. However, the limit of prosperity to be expected from such a trend is the point at which the shift of values to labor and consumers causes a restriction of investment. How can we tell when we are approaching that limit? The huge capital flotations this year and foreign financing in the American money market would indicate that for business as a whole we are nowhere near that limit. It is of interest, too, that while we have been lending money on long term issues foreign money has been coming into our country. Recent rise in the securities of one of our great electrical holding companies is attributed by its officers to active foreign buying. Also great masses of foreign money have sought deposit here to sustain exchanges and to avoid political contingencies.

There is evidence, too, that the rise in the wage level is at or past peak. Thirty-one establishments in 18 industries reported increases in wage rates during the month ending Oct. 15. The increases averaged 6.2 per cent and affected 1,014 employees, 27 per cent of the number employed. Five establishments in five industries reported wage rate decreases averaging 10.1 per cent and affecting 7,666 employees, 95 per cent of those employed by these firms. The statistics of the labor bureau cover only 10,000 establishments in the country, even when they are complete for them, and they employ only about 4,000,000 persons. A ratio of cuts to raises like that indicated above, applying to 44,000,000 employees would amount to something.

We may conclude from the figures available and the known facts as to the heavy displacement of labor by machinery and the effort of corporations running under capacity to promote labor stability by dividing the available work among their employees, that our business prospects as a whole are not now threatened by rising wages. However, the volume of foreign financing in our capital markets has two possible meanings. It does indicate an abundance of capital, and therefore confirms the theory that lower profits have restricted capital investment in our industries. It also indicates the contrary tendency—that low profits in domestic industries have impelled investors to seek greater returns out of the country. Old industrial countries like England teach us that the law of diminishing returns seems to apply to capital in home industries and is the great spur to foreign investments. In our own industrial history new industries have benefited most from this trend toward diminishing returns in old industries. A review of the relative gains of investors and employees in railroading in late years is one explanation of why railroads sell so little stock and so many bonds. While bankers have invited the railroads to come and borrow this year, their capital expenditures have not increased.

An immense increase in hog receipts sent prices up to $18.75, the highest in seven years, with general average off 20c at $18.45. Arrivals at 55,000 were 11,000 above the advance estimate and largest since June 6, being nearly 10,000 greater than the largest day last month. An advance estimate of 26,000 for today, the second largest for Wednesday in about two years proved a weakening influence late.

Large local packers entered the trade early, filling big orders on a mostly 20c@25c lower-price basis. Several of the biggest drovers, comprising nearly 10,000 hogs, averaged 20c lbs. and cost about $4.50. The Armour and Swift houses handled a combined total of over 20,000. About 14,000 were estimated in the pens at the close.

Top cattle advanced to $18.75, a new high for the last seven years, comparing with $18.00 the corresponding day a year ago. Prime 1,500 lb steers brought the top. Weekly top cattle prices a year ago, advanced from $12.40 for the week ending Nov. 20 to $14.35 the week ending Dec. 15, but dropped to $12.35 the week ending Jan. 8, 1927, the lowest weekly top this year.

Butcher stock held firm, baby beef heifers averaging 19c lbs., bringing $14.50. Advances of 25c@50c carried selected weaners up to $15.00. Country buyers paid stronger prices for desirable stockers and feeders, fleshy steers ranging upwards to $12.00 on country account.

Advances of 15c@25c carried top lambs to $14.50, highest for killers since Aug. 11. Feeders five weeks ago sold up to $14.85, when best slaughter lambs stopped at $14.35. Aged and yearling sheep ruled strong to 35c higher. Feeding and breeding stock held firm. Good 4 lb shorn lambs went at $13.40.

Pigeon Fricassee.

Since the pigeon costs only a fifth of what the squab does, and since its size recommends it for kitchenette service, we have been giving it some attention. First we made up our minds to cook this in absolutely the simplest fashion possible. If any one will start in that fashion without adding any special seasonings to a meat of any sort, they cannot only find out whether they think it worth while to cook that meat for their family, but they can develop a simple type of cooking that is gratifying.

There is no simpler way of cooking a meat, after it has been made immaculate, than putting it into water and simmering it until it is tender. If we wish then to make fricassee of it, it has to be cut up in pieces for such cooking, except when we call it a boiled piece of meat, and after it is cooked these pieces may be sautéed in butter and with the liquid we may

The top of a two quart double boiler is a good utensil for this because in that two cups of cold water will cover the cut up pigeons. In a flat kettle it will take more than that and if we wish for a good gravy the two cups will be sufficient. Put the kettle over the simmering burner, leave the cover off until the water comes to a boil. It will probably take an hour if the burner is turned half way down. Then skim and cover and cook till tender.

Then sauté the meat in butter, thick in the gravy and serve like any fricassee.

Marion had told Bobby to call her at 8 o'clock. Now Bobby never had any experience like this before. Therefore he did not know what to do. He woke up at five minutes to 8. Bobby soon had Marion awake and she said, "Is it time for me to get up yet?"
The quick reply was, "No, it's not time yet. I just called you to tell you you have ten minutes to sleep."

Field Museum Adopts Guide-Lecture Tours

A new series of guide-lecture tours arranged to satisfy visitors who seek special information about individual exhibits as well as those who desire superficial acquaintance with all departments will be instituted at the Field Museum tomorrow. Director D. C. Davies announced yesterday. Under the new plan there will be, every Thursday, starting at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m., two general tours touching the high spots of all four departments of museum exhibits—anthropology, botany, geology, and zoology. On the other days, when guide-lectures are given—Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays—individual sections of the museum will be studied, each subject being treated in detail.

London Men, and Even Husbands, Like Kiss-Proof Rouge

Kissproof lipstick sells like hot cakes in London, one reads in a news item from the great British city. Further, one reads that matrons, as well as maids, are remarkably pleased by the novelty. May one ask if it is news because the matrons, too, are pleased? But why shouldn't husbands be just as delighted with the lipstick which is not transferable, as fiancés?

However, it wasn't to start any argument as to why stay fast on your own lips coloring should appeal widely to women, but to remind us that the kiss-proof lipstick is no novelty in our country, that American fiancés and husbands have been sharing the benefits of it for some time past, although more than would have been thanking the inventors if all of the products offered as stay-stays really did stay on.

"Not one woman in a hundred," says a famous French stylist and recent observer of our women first hand, "knows how to apply a lipstick. They are too hurried for an operation that is going to make such a difference in the appearance of their faces. Any little dark corner in a hotel lobby, or in the shadows of a theater, or with simply a furtive look in a mirror half the size of the mouth they decorate seems sufficient preparation for a job that should have light, time, and skill to make it worthy of the attempt at beauty it implies."

The shade should be chosen to harmonize with the rouge, if not to match it exactly and what is still more important, it should be chosen with a piercing eye as to its color effect on the teeth. Some lipsticks against certain teeth will make them look whiter than toothpaste, brush and care are able to make them. Again, a lipstick of shade will make the teeth look yellow.

But the important thing when making up the mouth is to get a full portrait view of it so that one side is not heavier than the other and that much attention to uneven lip fullness may be remedied, or improved upon, as the case may need. In applying the lipstick the mouth should not be covered from corner to corner, upper and lower lip with one even pressure. A mouth has a shape that should be outlined. It has a center where the heaviest dab is applied and gradually eased away to the corners. The inner sides of the lips need touching up, and if the lower lip is too full, it should only be touched lightly in the center.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

V. M.: WALKING WITH THE toes pointed forward makes the feet appear smaller than when they are turned at a distinct angle. The weight should be distributed between the heel and the ball of the foot, with a little more pressure on the ball of the foot, to be prepared for the next step.

Robbing the Bank.

I had gone to a neighboring city over Labor day and was returning when I discovered I needed gas. As I was driving I put the baby, 3, and Robert, 11, and Ethel in the back seat and had given her my purse to look after.

Unknown to her the children had transferred all my change into a little bank which Robert had brought along. Imagine my embarrassment when he told me what they had done, and the gas attendant had to wait till he shook out my money.

Every one around smiled and you can imagine what they thought, too. A. L.

Young Girls Give Facts to Prove They Aren't Gold Diggers

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A while ago one of the officials of a well known surety company of New York tried paying the old fashioned girl who was satisfied if her beau took her to the theater, gave her a box of candy and treated her to an ice cream soda on the way home. It seems the rush in response to the call didn't even impede the progress of the caller. And so young women were again, as young women ever have been, put upon the carpet for conduct unbecoming.

The official is reported to have said, among other things, that the girls of today expected a man to spend $50 or $100 for one evening's entertainment and that a large part of the increase in crime was due to the fear of men that their feminine guests would look upon them as cheap.

"It was once possible," he said, "to have a good time during an evening for $5. Now it costs considerably more and the average youth, in a position of trust but with a moderate salary, is subjected to strong temptation."

One young woman close to us, reading the $50 and $100 figures in connection with an evening's entertainment, burst out with: "It hasn't cost $100 all the time I've been going with him, which is nearly six months, and I'm crabs about him still."

And Kathleen, objecting to another statement of like wild extravagance, asked to submit her solution of the entertainment problem. "Before I was married," she writes, "I kept a list of names of 'dates' and the financial status of each. If, we will say, Henry asked for a date

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Reserve Judgment.

"Dear Doris: I only went out with a fellow once, but I don't like his looks. What can I do? BLOOMING." You may find he's worth cultivating. At least give him a chance to prove his worth.

I knew he was a struggling young dentist and entertainment from him meant a movie and a sandwich. If Jimmy, with the indulgent parents, insisted upon snappy entertainment he was allowed to provide it. If George, who was the owner of a car and was putting money away, but was still carefully avoiding extravagant pleasures, asked me out, he was permitted to take me to a regular theater and a nice eating place afterward.

"None of them was ever embarrassed one way or the other by me."

U. S. Grandma Loses Fight for Max Linder's Child

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Because Max Linder, former film star of France, died a few minutes after his girl wife, who had entered a suicide pact with him, the public minister, who represents the state in all law suits, today decided that the right to possession of their 4-year-old daughter, Maude, belongs to the parents of the dead actor. The American grandmother of the child, Mrs. Mathilde Peters, had sought custody of the girl. The formal decision of the court was withheld until next week.
